600 yards from the old platform, and at least another 600 from the old pans. Both pans are now working, and both platforms have salt now being stored upon them. I have, therefore, the honor to report that the above guard is not sufficient, and request the Inspector-General will obtain the sanction of Government for an increase as marginally noted. There are five beats on the pans and two on the platforms, and each beat must have three men. In addition to this there is the Salt Treasury guard (three Constables) which is in the village of Pentacotta; so that, in fact, we require twenty-four men for the eight parties to furnish one sentry each day and night, and three men in excess in case of sickness, or to take the duty of those required to attend the Magistrate's Court, &c. Of the excess now asked for, I request that the two 1st-class Constables may be sanctioned for the permanent guard and the three 2nd-class Constables for the temporary guard.

Two 1st-class Constables.
Three 2nd-class Constables.

I request the Superintendent of Police as to the necessity of entertaining the extra men both of the temporary and permanent guard.
