Sir,

In the alphabetical list of articles published in the Import Tariff for 1860 the article "Bidmisk" was separately provided for and charged with duty at an Import Valuation of 2 Rupees per cwt. but since 1867 it has been classed in all the tariffs under "Fruits and Vegetables".

2. In the classification list of articles received from the Government of India in 1875 and now in use Bidmisk stands under the same general head. But this classification would seem to be incorrect. Bidmisk is an extract from the bark of a tree of the Willow tribe yielding a strong perfume and is imported in earthenware in a liquid state. It is said to be used as a tonic and the Chemical Analyst reports that it contains no spirit. Its importation is insignificant.

3. I accordingly solicit instructions as to the proper head under which it should be classed.
