-ber 1875 No 2311 recorded in Board's Proceedings Miscellaneous No 10655
dated the 29th Idem -

2. Mr Madeira accordingly went to Vellingatam to relieve the Sea Customs Superintendent, but the latter, on private grounds, changed his mind and cancelled the leave granted him - Mr Madeira was therefore obliged to return to Chittoor to his permanent appointment as Agency Head Writer and claimed Travelling allowances for the journey to Vellingatam and back amounting to Rs 39-12-0

3. A question arose as to who was to bear these expenses. It was, as will be seen from the Correspondence, ultimately decided that Captain Farley, on whose account Mr

Mr Madeira was sent, should bear them, and the amount was accordingly recovered from him in four monthly instalments and paid to Mr Madeira -

4. Captain Farley now appeals against Mr Davidson's order and requests reimbursement on the ground that there is no rule under which he is liable to make good the charges. The Board will observe that - Mr Davidson held Capt. Farley responsible, because the latter had expressed a wish to leave immediately which necessitated Mr Madeira's being ordered to join forthwith.

5. It seems to me doubtful however whether Capt. Farley is responsible. There is no rule applicable apparently to the case.

6. I therefore beg to lay the matter before the Board for their decision with the recommendation that the charge may, under the circumstances, be disregarded by Government, as a special case.

Submitted to Government with the Board's recommendation that the travelling allowance claimed by Mr. Madeira - Rs. 39-12-0 may as a special case be paid by Government.

The

2. The only rule bearing on the subject is that contained in S. O. II of 1873 under which prior sanction must be obtained for travelling allowance consequent on the grant of leave to Uncovenanted Servants. Captain Farley cancelled his leave and properly speaking should bear the expense entailed by the fruitless journey owing to his change of mind, but there is no rule which renders him liable.
