a special exception may be made in his favor, and a personal allowance out of savings be granted him so as to bring him on a par with a First-Class Deputy Superintendent or a Military Officer in the grade next below him.

2. The first of the two memorials long been originally sent in with the idea that it might be considered in connection with the Survey Re-organisation Scheme lately before the Government of India, was returned to the memorialist after the receipt of your letter, dated 21st May last (No. 313), conveying final instructions on the subject.

3. Mr. Gompertz, however, still wishes that his prayer may be taken into consideration. In submitting the papers I am to say that His Grace the Governor in Council does not think any particular advance is made out. Mr. Gompertz is drawing the pay long ago settled for his grade, and in the matter of travelling allowance has been benefited by the re-organisation. He complains that two of his compeers are better off than himself and that some of his Military juniors draw higher allowances than his own. The former are his seniors and reap the advantage; the latter have received special consideration because of their Army rank.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,
