From the Acting Collector of Kurnool, to the offg. Chief Secretary to Government, dated 28th May 1877.

In answer to the late Chief Secretary's Confidential Memorandum, No. 285 dated 14th February last, directing me to report after careful enquiry the probable position of the ryots at the opening of the next cultivation season in regard to seed grain, I have the honor to inform you that I believe the majority of the ryots will have or be able to procure enough seed to sow their land. The well-to-do ryots have a small stock to fall back upon, besides what they are at present consuming. The poorer ryots will no doubt be put to considerable straits, but those of them who have not mortgaged their lands (owing to want of capital or the death of their cattle) will I think be able to obtain from the local dealers, on terms probably unfavorable, unfavorable to themselves, as much as as they want.

There may be some individual cases of hardship, but I do not on that account feel justified in recommending the revival of the old abandoned Succary system even temporarily.

If further observation and experience lead me to doubt the correctness of the opinion now expressed, I will write again. If we once sanction a few cases of Succary, there will be numberless applications both from the poor and well-to-do persons whom it will be extremely difficult to distinguish.

Copy to Revenue Department.

H. J. Campbell
Offg. Chief Secretary.
