Approach to Gundalam pans. In fair order requires and plat forms a little repair which from Lowford's will be attended to this Canal. year.

I take this opportunity to bring to notice the unsatisfactory state of the bridge over the Kandam backwater.
It has not been open for traffic since the 29th March last. The little culvert in the Sembakam causeway is perfectly rotten. I had some difficulty in passing over it on my way back from Chumampett on the 29th ultimo and

and I am told it has since become perfectly impassable. The wooden bridge connected with that causeway wants repair. The rails in some places have been removed. It should not be a matter for surprise if from these causes there be a falling off in the sales - in as much as Madras salt is now being brought down by rail as far almost as Buddalore and sold almost as cheap as the Markamun salt is sold at the pans.
