From

To C A Galton Esquire

Madras.

Sir,

In G.O. dated 31st January 1877 Nº 102 Government ordered that charges bona fide incurred for watering Tatties during the hot weather should be borne by Government.

2. In his Circular of the 12th March 1877 Nº 13429 the Accountant General limited the period during which such charges may be paid to that mentioned in "the Statement submitted by you to this Department in 1868." This period it appears was 3 months.

to

3. In the case of the Additional Sub Collector, the 8 months ended on the 19th July, and he has addressed me on the subject. In my case, it ended on the 25th instant.

4. The season is an exceptional one. The weather is as hot and the dry wind as strong now as ever.

5. Accordingly, I venture to request that the privilege to which I have alluded may be extended till the end of September.

Nellore Collector's Office 27th August 1877.
