RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution of March last local Governments and Administrations were requested to review briefly the year's operations and to express their opinion on the result; but some Provinces have simply forwarded the returns submitted by District Officers.

2. The annexed statement summarizes the year's operations except in Mysore and Coorg, from which Provinces no return has been received. The provincial returns, however, still show a want of care in their compilation, and some have had to be returned for revision. For instance, in the amended statement submitted by the Government of the North-Western Provinces the number of cattle killed by tigers in the Rohilkund Division is shown as thirteen, whereas the Commissioner's report gives the number as five; in neither statement is the total number of cattle killed in this division correctly given.* Again, the total number of animals destroyed in the Benares Division is shown in the amended statement to be 157, whereas the correct total is 154. The number of tigers destroyed in Assam seems to be 411, and not 410 as shown in the Chief Commissioner's return.

* The correct figures are 158 in the statement submitted by the North-Western Provinces Government and 150 in the Commissioner's statement.

3. The noticeable features in the returns are the following: Last year it was found that 21,000 persons and 48,000 head of cattle were destroyed during the year by wild animals and venomous snakes; that 22,357 wild animals and 270,185 venomous snakes had been killed; and that Rupees 1,20,015 had been expended in rewards. This year it appears that 19,273 persons and 54,830 head of cattle have so perished; that 212,371 snakes and 23,459 wild animals have been killed; and that Rupees 1,24,574 have been expended in rewards. In Madras, Bengal, and in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the numbers of persons killed by wild animals and by snakes are considerably less in 1876 than in 1875; in the other Provinces the figures do not exhibit any great variations, except in the Central Provinces, where deaths rose from 617 in 1875 to 1098 in 1876. The Chief Commissioner states that no new or special measures have been adopted in view to the extermination of wild animals and snakes, but there is no explanation of the greater mortality shown in his returns. As regards the loss of cattle, the figures of the year seem unsatisfactory. While Madras and Bombay show fewer cattle killed, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, the Central Provinces, and British Burma show materially larger numbers. It is also probable that even the figures now reported are only approximate to the truth, as the agency for reporting the mortality caused to men and cattle is still imperfect, though more perfect than it used to be. The unfavorable figures testify possibly to better reporting and not to really greater mortality. As regards rewards paid for the destruction of wild animals (including snakes), more was paid in Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces, and British Burma, and less in the Punjab and in Assam.

4. The Government of India trust that in future years the returns may be more accurate and may be reviewed by the local Governments which submit them, and that the measures reported may be more effective.

No. 43—2,065.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution with the appended table be forwarded to local Governments and Administrations for information, and be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.
