" Paragraph 13.—The Superintendent, Government Printing, states that in his opinion the most convenient size of form* for annual Volumes of the Government of India and for the great majority of administration and other reports. As to type, the Superintendent recommends solid pica for the report proper, and small pica for extracted matter and the appendices. Figured statements should, the Superintendent thinks, be confined to one page, and where it is possible to do so, two or more statements should be brought into one page instead of spreading the type out with unnecessary gaps between each line.
