regard to the allowance to be drawn by Mr. Garstin when Additional (Famine) Secretary, it had been customary to grant full pay to substitutes for officers deputed on famine duty, and the practice was continued until, in view of that ruling, it was directed to cease in October last, and a list of the officers affected, with a statement of the amounts over-drawn, was called for.

These have now been furnished by the Accountant-General, and in the Proceedings forwarded for confirmation, this Government have resolved to waive all retrenchment, as they do not consider it should be enforced in the case of pay drawn in accordance with what were then the intentions of Government and passed in due course by the Account Department.
