Sir,

I have the honor to state that as Police Guards of 6 constables will be required for guarding the spontaneous salt which is likely to be formed in the swamp named Pomborai. The Salt Deputy Collector states that the water in this swamp is at present deep, that it is likely that it will produce a large quantity of salt if the evaporation continues uninterrupted, and that the guard will be required by the end of next month. He does not state the period for which the guard will be required but I think it may probably be required up to the end of October 1876.
