To

The Secretary to Government
Revenue Department
Fort St. George

Sir,

I most respectfully beg to acquaint you that I have published the 2nd Edition of the Map of Madras and its suburbs — now sold at Messrs Gantz Bros: Mount Road Madras — drawn to a scale of six inches to a mile, and the whole map comprises nine sections or sheets.

This map has been compiled by me and its preparation was a work of time, as it embraces all the most recent improvements that have been made to the Town, besides containing every useful information with regard to the limits of the High Court, the various Districts and Municipal Divisions, the names of the Roads, Streets and Lanes in the Town and Suburbs, showing the localities and the positions of all Public Buildings as well as private dwellings in Madras, also the line of water supply to the Town, the Railway Lines, Madras Harbour, Buckingham Canal, and the mean Sea level throughout the city.

I beg to submit that I am in a position to state that there is no map of Madras so full of details as this one.
