GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

8th May 1878, No. 701.

Read the following paper:—

No. 136. Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 5th April 1878, No. 937.

Read Proceedings of the Madras Government, dated 22nd March 1878, No. ——, Revenue Department.

THE Draft Bill will be referred to the Collectors of Godavery, Kistna, Nellore, and Tanjore for any remarks they may have to offer, with the request that they will submit their replies at an early date.

2. The Board must, however, remark that some of the provisions are based on the assumption of circumstances so entirely at variance with the natural conditions of Indian rivers in this Presidency that it would, they believe, be impracticable to give effect to them. For instance Section 6 presupposes that river banks are carried away bodily and redeposited in much the same state within a short distance of their original site, whereas the earth carried away from one spot does not settle again perhaps for miles. Again the thread of the stream of an Indian river shifts from year to year, and any attempt to define limits of property in a new formation by a settlement of what was the thread of the stream before, as proposed in Section 8, would be futile. The term "opposite" in the same section is not defined, and it would be impossible to settle conflicting claims without a more precise expression of the intention.
