Proceedings of Government, Military Department, dated 27th December 1878,
No. 7,206.

No. 253. Despatch from the Right Honble the Secretary of State for India.

Military,

INDIA OFFICE, LONDON,

No. 90.

28th November 1878.

MY LORD DUKE,—In your Military No. 61, dated 31st May 1878, you solicit orders respecting the period which Captain Campbell Walker, Madras Staff Corps, who was lately employed under New Zealand Government, may be allowed to count as service for pension.

2. Captain Walker's services were put at the disposal of the New Zealand Government for one year and nine months from the 4th March 1876, which would carry him up to the 4th December 1877. It appears, however, that he left New Zealand, and ceased to draw pay from the Government of that colony on the 10th May 1877; that he travelled via San Francisco and America to England, where he arrived in July, and where he remained until November; and that he finally reached India on the 1st December 1877.

3. He claimed to reckon the whole of the period from the 4th March 1876 to the 30th November 1877 as service for pension.

4. Your Government, however, refers to Lord Salisbury's Despatch to the Government of India, No. 38, dated 14th February 1878, have expressed a doubt whether it was contemplated that any more than the period of Captain Walker's actual service in New Zealand, the voyage there and back, should be allowed to count as service for pension.

5. I have carefully considered all the circumstances of Captain Walker's case, and a letter has reached me from Sir J. S. Vogel, the Agent General of New Zealand in this country, which confirms Captain Walker's statement that he came to England in expectation of receiving from the colony a communication concerning his return to his appointment there.

6. This appears to me to exculpate Captain Walker from the charge of bad faith.

7. It appears, moreover, that, during the time he was in England, Captain Walker was paying the pensionary contribution specified in Despatch No. 341 of 1876, and I therefore consider that he is fairly entitled to count the whole of the time up to the date of his arrival in India on the 30th November 1877 as service for pension.

I have, &c.,

No. 90.

London, 25th November 1878

To His Excellency the Most Noble The Governor in C. Fort St. George.

My Lord

Para. 1. In your Military Letter, No. 61, dated 1st May 1878, you solicit orders respecting the period which Captain Campbell Walker, Madras Staff Corps, who was lately employed under the New Zealand Government, may be allowed to count as service for pension.

Captain Walker's services were placed at the disposal of the New Zealand Government for one year and nine months from the 4th March 1876, which would carry him up to the 4th December 1877. It appears, however, that he left New Zealand, and ceased to draw pay from the Government that colony on the 10th May 1877; that he sailed via San Francisco and America to England, where he arrived in July, and where he remained until November; and that he finally re-joined India on the 1st December 1877.

He claimed to reckon the whole of the period from the 4th March 1876 to the 30th November 1878 as service for pension.

Your Government, however, referring to Lord Salisbury's Despatch to the Government of India, No. 14th February 1878, have expressed a doubt whether it was contemplated that anything more than the period of Captain Walker's actual service in New Zealand, plus the voyage there and back, should be allowed to count as service for pension.

I have carefully considered all the circumstances of Captain Walker's case, and a letter has been received from Sir Julius Vogel, the Agent-General for New Zealand in this country, which confirms Captain Walker's statement that he came to New Zealand in expectation of receiving from the Government a communication concerning his return to his appointment there.

6. This appears to me to exculpate Capt. Walker from the charge of bad faith.

7. It appears, moreover, that, during his residence in England, Captain Walker was pensionary contribution specified in No. 341 of 1876, and I therefore consider him fairly entitled to count the whole of the date of his arrival in India on the 1st of 1877 as service for pension.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord Duke,

Your Grace's most obedient humble Servant
