Draft A. P.

Sale of Chinchona
bark locally.

Vol. C. P. 3558 and 3594.

The instructions for fixing the import price for the sale of Chinchona bark locally ~~was~~ ^{were} issued on the 8th inst.; but from the current papers it appears, that the 50 bales reserved at Madras for that purpose were shipped to England on the 6th.

As the Secretary of State had complained
of delays in arrival
of shipments reaching the India Office, the papers were at once
printed and despatched.
Major ~~for~~ ^{Major} explains that the bark in this case was likely to deteriorate if kept
any longer, and that

bank of this season will be available for local sale, if required.
It is suggested that the output of the next year's harvest should be ordered to be sold at Madrass & Flet.

As the present
cotton stock is being an entirely new harvest in India. It is known by experience that local demands will be met.

I don't think 50,000
bales will be enough for the purpose.

Probably 100,000
will be enough for the purpose.

depends on the crop of the year. I imagine this season must be 50,000 bales. J. B.

Note
on Cat 3538 and 3594.

Chinchona bark intended for local sale shipped off.
