SIR,

2. I observe from the papers which accompany your letter that, although, chiefly owing to the lamented death of the late Mr. Comyn, the inquiry into Forest rights in South Canara is still incomplete, considerable progress has been made in it, and that the result shows that by far the greater portion of the Canara Forests are the property of the State.

3. This is very satisfactory. But I notice that the Collector proceeds to observe that, "if the decisions be revised with reference to the finding of the Bombay High Court in the North Canara Forest case, the results will doubtless be more favourable to Government than those" which he had reported.

4. Considering the great public importance of effective conservation of the Canara Forests, I presume that your Excellency will think it desirable to enforce what have been authoritatively decided to be the legal rights of Government in them.

Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

Washington
