(Revenue)

SIR,

The attention of the Government of India has recently been attracted to the circumstances that neither in the law nor in the standing orders of the Madras Presidency does there appear to be, as there is in most other Provinces, any express provision for the exemption of necessary agricultural Cattle and implements from distraint for arrears of Land Revenue.

2. It is probable that in practice such property is never distrained, and that the omission from the Madras law is merely the result of its bearing date 1864, some ten years earlier than the corresponding enactments Elsewhere, which were framed or amended at a time when the subject was exciting considerable attention, and upon the lines of Section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure. I am, however, to enquire what the standing order on the subject may be, and if, as is believed, the Exemption in question is not enjoined in them, I am to ask whether in the opinion of His Excellency the Governor in Council it would not be desirable to supply the omission.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedt servt.

Note.

Please see exception (b) to sec 266 of the Civil Procedure Code. A similar provision was proposed by the Honorable T. Rama Rao as regards arrears of Rent when the Madras Rent Recovery Act Amendment Bill (now Act III of 1884) was under consideration but it was withdrawn on the representation of the Government pleader that the local legislature would in framing any law as regards public demands (Vide Para 2 of the Govt order).
