1	The zemindari of Mogaltur, paying peishcush of Rs. 6,54,495. Money allowance, viz., 600 star pagodas per mensem.	The allowance was originally granted by Government in their order, dated 23rd August 1796. Star pagodas. Kalidindi Narasayya .. 200 Bhadrayya .. 200 Charity and relations, &c. .. 200 Total .. 600	Charity	Rajah Kalidindi Kumara Tirupati Razu Gar, great-grandson to the original grantee Narasayya. He died on the 1st January 1891.	130 star pagodas or Rs. 455 per mensem enjoyed by the deceased.	1. Kalidindi Daivaprasada Kumara Lakshminarasimha Razu, 1st son, 24 years. 2. Kalidindi Daivaprasada Varaha Venkata Suryanarayana Kumara Lakshmikanta Razu, 2nd son, 16 years. 3. Widow Subhadrayyagar, 45 years. 4. Daughter-in-law Buchi Seetayyagar, 15 years. 5. Grandson Satyanarayanamurti Razu, 3 years. 6. Widowed daughter Radha Venkatanarasayyagar, 30 years. The family is in debt to the extent of Rs. 45,000. There are some lands, the annual profit on which, after paying the Government dues, comes to only Rs. 470, but they are under mortgage with possession for the liquidation of the above debt. It is, therefore, clear that this respectable and large family is entirely dependent upon the allowance of Rs. 455 granted by the Government for its maintenance.	Kalidindi Tirupati Razu was the last holder of the important and ancient zemindari of Mogaltur which paid a peishcush of upwards of 6½ lakhs of rupees to Government. He held it till 1787 when it was mortgaged by him to the East India Company on account of arrears of revenue due by himself and by some other zemindars for whom he stood security. The zemindari remained under mortgage till his death in 1791, and it then escheated to Government, as no heirs to issue. An allowance of 600 pagodas per mensem was settled on his two widows, Bhadrayya and Narasayya. After the demise of the first widow in 1801 the stipend was reduced to 460 pagodas per mensem and on the death of the second widow it was discontinued altogether. 2. On the recommendation of the Collector, Mr. Long, in a statement, dated 3rd November 1809, a monthly allowance of 187 pagodas per mensem was sanctioned in 1810 to Kumara Tirupati Razu, adopted son of the widows of the original zemindar. On his death the allowance was reduced to 130 pagodas or Rs. 455 per mensem and continued to his son Kumara Lakshminarasimha Razu. He died on the 28th October 1876, leaving a son, Kumara Tirupati Razu, to whom the Government sanctioned the same allowance of Rs. 455 per mensem in G.O., Nos. 3220 and 1437, dated 9th November 1877 and 5th September 1878, and these Proceedings were confirmed by the Governor-General in Council as can be seen in G.O., No. 1883, dated 21st November 1878. 3. The last holder, Kumara Tirupati Razu, is reported to have died on the 1st January 1891, leaving two sons (1) Daivaprasada Kumara Lakshminarasimha Razu, aged 24 years, (2) Daivaprasada Venkata Suryanarayana Kumara Lakshmikanta Razu, aged 16 years, and a widow, all of whom are living together. 4. In G.O., No. 3220, dated 9th November 1877, referred to above, the Government observe that they "find nothing in the history of this allowance to indicate an intention to limit it to a life-grant" and accordingly resolve to sanction the continuance to Kumara Tirupati Razu of the full amount drawn by his father. In G.O., No. 1437, dated 5th September 1878, the Government likewise remark that from the history of this case "there has throughout been every desire to treat the family with consideration, that the personal allowance granted to the father of Lakshminarasimha Razu was continued to the latter without any restriction and that it was merely the amount drawn by him for certain dependants of the family that was to be considered at his death." 5. From the above history of the case it appears that the allowance was enjoyed for three generations. In the list of money allowances in the Revenue Department disbursed from the Collectorate of Godávari up to 31st March 1887, approved by Government in G.O., dated 16th May 1888, Mis. No. 2880, Revenue, this allowance is classed as "hereditary." 6. In these circumstances, I beg to recommend that the continuance of the allowance of Rs. 455 per mensem drawn by the late Tirupati Razu to his eldest son, Daivaprasada Kumara Lakshminarasimha Razu, be sanctioned.	...

Kalidindi Daiva Prasada Lakshminarasimharayu held the Zamindari of Mogulturu which paid a peishcush of Rs 1,54,495 55 per mensem by the deceased. Simhadri Rayu was the last important zamindar of Mogulturu which paid by upwards of 6½ lacs of rupees. He held it till 1787 when he was forced by Hyder Ali to pay on account of arrears due by himself and by the zamindars for whom he was security. The zamindari remained under mortgage till his death in 91 when it then escheated to the Sircar for want of male issue. An allowance of 600 star pagodas per mensem was granted to his two widows Bhadrayya and Narasayya. After the demise of the 1st widow in 1801 the stipend was reduced to 460 pagodas per mensem and on the death of the second widow it was discontinued altogether. 2. On the recommendation of the Collector Mr Lang, in a statement dated 22nd November 1809 a monthly allowance of 137 pagodas per mensem was granted in 1810 to Kumara Simhadri Rayu, adopted son of the widows of the original Zamindar. On his death, the allowance was reduced to 130 pagodas or 455 Rs per mensem and continued to his son Lakshminara-
