Reserved Forest.

Approving and ordering to be published in the Fort St. George and Kistna District Gazettes, the draft notification under section 4 of the Forest Act for the proposed constitution of the Guttikonda extension block (No. I) as a — and reiterating certain principles for guidance in the selection of reserves.

ettlement officer passed under sections

3. His Excellency the Governor in Council observes that Mr. Atkinson's attention has been drawn to the orders of Government enunciating the general principles upon which reserves should be selected. It was not intended that each taluk in a district should be self-supporting in the matter of fuel and fodder supply, for in some cases this would be an impossibility, and the Collector must take into consideration the requirements of the district as a whole. But in submitting proposals for further reservation, each taluk should be taken as the unit for the purposes of the original computation, and arrangements can then be made under which taluks, where the supply is abundant, will provide for the wants of their less fortunate neighbours. It must also be borne in mind that the Government has no intention of reserving "every available acre of land," as contemplated by Mr. Atkinson, and an ample margin must always be left for the extension of cultivation and for the unrestricted enjoyment of the villagers. If it is the supply of fodder for unprivileged cattle which necessitates the reservation of land, which ought to be left to agriculturists, that supply must be curtailed.

NOTIFICATION.

His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to notify, under section 4 of the Madras Forest Act (V of 1882), that it is proposed to constitute the block of land described in the schedule hereto annexed "reserved forest" under the Act.

District.	Taluk.	Block number.	Name of block.	Situation and boundaries.
Kistna.	Sattena-palle.	120	Guttikonda forest reserve, extension I.	SITUATION.—Situated to the east of the Gullapalle village. BOUNDARIES.—North.—From the easternmost corner of survey No. 14, the south sides of survey Nos. 10, 12 and 2 up to the south-east corner of the last-mentioned number; then a straight line in a north-easterly direction to a point one hundred and twenty links almost parallel to the south side of survey No. 14; then another straight line north-east to a point one hundred and forty links west of Ulinda vagu; then a third north-east running almost parallel to the south side of the boundary of Pedanevalipuri the reserve; then a fourth north-east to a point where the Ulinda vagu crosses the boundary of Pedanevalipuri, two hundred links north-east by east of the point where the Ulinda vagu crosses the boundary of the reserve. East and South-east.—From the last-named point the western surveyed boundary of the Pedanevalipuri Tripuram and Narasingapad villages, up to a survey stone at the south-west corner of the Narasingapad Agraharam; then a line south-west by south along the boundary between Sattenapalle and Narasaraopet taluks up to the top of Konaboda. West.—From the last-named point the Guttikonda reserve boundary north-west by north up to the south-east corner of survey No. 420; then a line in a nearly south-easterly direction along the south sides of survey Nos. 419, 417 and 379 up to the south-east corner of the last number; then lines north-north-east, east-north-east and north-north-east along the eastern sides of survey Nos. 379 and 377 up to the north-east corner of the latter; then another line west-north-west along the northern side of survey No. 371 to a point forty links south-east by east of the south-east corner of survey No. $\frac{1}{2}$; then a straight line north-north-east to a point twenty-five links east of the north-east corner of the said No. $\frac{1}{2}$; then another straight line north-west by west to a point two hundred and eighty links north-west of the northernmost corner of survey No. $\frac{1}{2}$; then another line north-north-west to a point fifty links north of the northernmost corner of survey No. $\frac{1}{2}$; then its south, east line north-north-east to the south-east corner of survey No. 36; then along its south side up to its south-east corner; then the east side of survey No. 33 up to the south-west corner of survey No. $\frac{1}{4}$; then its south, east and north sides up to its north-west corner; then the east and north sides of survey No. 33 up to its north-west corner; then the east and north sides of survey No. 32 and 31 up to the south-east corner of survey No. 27; then the east sides of survey Nos. 27, 26, and 1, to the starting point. NOTE.—The eastern and western boundaries of the reserve meet at an angle in the south. N.B.—All the survey fields are of the Gullapalle village.

Resolution—dated 9th May 1894, Forest No. 629, Mis.

In its Proceedings, dated 10th January 1894, Forest No. 17, the Board submitted to Government the proposal to notify in the Fort St. George Gazette, the Guttikonda extension No. I in the Sattenapalle taluk, Kistna district, under section 4 of the Madras Forest Act. The extension of forest reservation in the taluk being already high (a little over 75 per cent. of the unoccupied area), the Government before publishing the notification desired to be furnished with a special report showing more fully the necessity for further reservation, and remarked that any further curtailment of the available cultivable waste by increasing the area under the control of the Forest Department was likely to cause hardship to the villagers concerned and would only be permitted for very special reasons.

2. The Collector of Kistna who has been called on to furnish the required report submits it in his letter read above. He explains that the areas given of the reserves already notified cannot be regarded as reliable and mentions instances where discrepancies have been found to exist. He shows by figures that the extent of Government unoccupied waste is a great deal more than 91,683 acres, and assuming this to be the case, considers that only 33.7 per cent. of the waste area has been taken up by forest reservation. There is doubtless some mistake somewhere and it is noted that the matter is receiving the Collector's attention and a report of the result of his enquiry has been promised.

3. The Collector also adds that the area forming the subject of this Proceedings is not suitable for purposes of cultivation and that the requirements of the villagers for extension of cultivation have not been overlooked and have been provided for.

In consideration of this assurance, in addition to the Collector's surmise that the taluk has not been over-reserved, the Board thinks that there seems no objection to notifying the block as already recommended. If necessary, a portion of it can at any time, be disafforested and made available for cultivation.

4. In paragraph 4 of his letter, the Collector states that in order to give a tolerably complete effect to Government declared policy of improving and protecting the grazing grounds and to provide for the whole of the cattle of the district, every available acre of land has to be reserved, taking the whole district instead of each taluk as the unit. This view is not in consonance with that of Government as distinctly expressed in paragraph 25 of its order, dated 29th October 1890, No. 844, and his attention will be drawn to it accordingly.

„ Collector of Kistna.

ORDER—dated 6th June 1894, No. 397, Revenue.

Forest No. 150.

From the Collector's report, submitted with the above Proceedings, it appears that the figures given in the "statement of area and condition," appended to Board's Proceedings No. 17, dated 10th January 1894, are entirely unreliable, and that the extent of waste land in the Sattenapalle taluk is greatly in excess of 91,683 acres, the area shown in the aforesaid statement. The actual area of reserved forests in this taluk is also said to have been over-estimated.

2. The Government notes that further inquiry is being made in the matter. Mr. Atkinson reports, however, that the area of waste land in Guttikonda village, over and above the portion selected for the proposed extension of forest reserves, is sufficient for the wants of the villagers, and the draft notification under section 4 of the Forest Act, submitted with the Board's Proceedings of 10th January 1894, already quoted, the control of village officials should be reserved now and left under the control of the department. The Government remarked that all good forest land, however great the extent, should be brought under control; "and though the obligation on the Forest Department was limited to the supply of fodder for all cattle necessary for agricultural or domestic purposes," the Board is aware that in this district it has never been possible to maintain the distinction between privileged and unprivileged cattle, and that it is in contemplation to abolish that distinction everywhere.

3. The steps that have been taken to carry out Government's direction have been enumerated in my letter No. 4069 of 9th February 1894, which is, as explained in the second paragraph of the Proceedings, Forest No. 262, now on its way to Government.

4. I have also with my letter No. 4311, dated 27th February 1894, submitted my District Forest-officer's note on the pullari question. From that, it will be seen that according to the small amount of statistics which we have to rely upon, we have not even with the whole of the areas proposed in the letter referred to in the above paragraph, sufficient pasture ground for the whole of the cattle of the district. It behoves us therefore to reserve areas wherever they can be found. I am in a position now to give tolerably complete effect to Government's declared policy of "improving and protecting the grazing grounds," and of affording grazing for all cattle necessary for agricultural or domestic purposes. But I can only do so by reserving every available acre of land. I must also, if I am to provide for the whole district, consider the district as a whole and not taluk by taluk.

5. With regard to the figures given, I have the honour to state that too much reliance must not be placed on them. It has recently been found that whereas the figure of the Venkatayapalem reserve has hitherto been accepted as 46,201 acres, the real area on the map is only 40,566 acres. This is, moreover, not the only reserve in which such inaccuracies have been traced. Lankavidibha (Répalle taluk) has had to be corrected from 4,480 to 2,850, Kanukhollu from 667 to 557; and the karnam's figures for the old reserves in Palnad taluk, show a difference of 25,000 odd acres, as compared with the forest figures. My District Forest-officer is endeavouring to have correct maps prepared and correct figures deduced from them for all the old reserves where sketch-maps were originally submitted with settlement papers and where the figures were obtained from such sketch-maps.

6. Moreover, the taluk map gives the figures for the taluk as 714.14 sq. miles or 457,050 acres, and the difference between 242,929 acres and 457,050 is 214,121 acres. Only 91,683 acres are given as unoccupied waste, 25,489 are aghaharam villages and there is an unaccounted for balance of 96,949 acres. It is possible that a good deal of this (if not all) is unsurveyed area and it is the unsurveyed areas that we are chiefly taking up for "forests." This will be further enquired into and reported upon. Should this be the case, only 33.7 of the waste area is taken up by forest reserves. That there must be some error of this sort is palpable from the fact that the area of further selections not yet sent up for notification (including the reserve under reference) amounts to another 26,680 acres, and therefore the total area of reserves amounts to 95,571 acres or more than the total unoccupied land, which is absurd.

7. As regards the area now in question, I have the honour to state that the land is not very suitable for extension of cultivation, although as I mentioned in a previous letter there may be patches here and there of fertile soil. The area of waste land in the village is ample considering that the village is not a large one. The Tahsildar's figures give 2,133 acres of waste, but it is probable that the 1,130 acres of this extension have been included therein, still there are over 1,000 acres remaining for extension of cultivation.

Endorsement by A. W. PEET, Esq., Conservator of Forests, Northern Circle, dated 20th April 1894, No. 194.

Forwarded. The main point seems to be whether the area left for extension of cultivation is sufficient. I believe it good policy to regulate the grazing in this district as in others by reservation. It does not seem to me clear from this letter whether there is sufficient land left for extension. The area under cultivation is not given, and a doubt is expressed whether the area left is 2,133 acres or 1,003.

2. No steps have apparently been taken to draw up a final programme of forest reservation for the whole district as directed in G.O., dated 16th January 1888, No. 51, and the Collector of Kistna should be directed to report whether any progress has yet been made in this direction.

Order—dated 12th February 1894, Mis. No. 593, Revenue.

Before passing orders on the proposal to reserve the Guttikonda extension block (No. 1) in the Sattenapalle taluk of the Kistna district, His Excellency the Governor in Council desires to be furnished with a special report showing more fully the necessity for this reservation. The extent of forest already reserved in this taluk is given as 68,891 acres, which is a little more than 75 per cent. of the whole unoccupied Government area, and His Excellency in Council is of opinion that any further diminution of the extent of waste lands available for extension of cultivation is likely to cause hardship to the villagers concerned, and should only be permitted for very special reasons.

I have the honour to forward herewith draft notification of Guttikonda extension I (at Gullapalli) reserve.

2. The area was originally selected by Ranger P. Ananda Rao, but it has been inspected and perambulated by the District Forest-officer, Mr. A. W. Lushington, and the selection found to be good. It was demarcated partly by Ranger Ananda Rao in September 1892 and a notification and plan were sent to the District Forest-officer last March for transmission to the Board; but the District Forest-officer returned them to Ranger C. M. Parthasarathy Naidu to complete the demarcation before it was sent on. The demarcation was finished in July, but the District Forest-officer has been unable to check the demarcation before now, having fallen ill when he was in this part last month, and hence occupied on other occasions. The original notification has been revised and is now sent on to the Board.

3. The soil is a red sandy loam and is covered with a fairly dense jungle of Albizia amara, Acacia sundra, Grewia, Celastrus, &c. It is flat ground except for a group of small hillocks across it rather north of its centre.

2. The collector of Kistna who has been called on to furnish the required report submits it in his letter read above. He explains that the areas given of the Revenues already notified cannot be regarded as reliable and mentions instances where discrepancies have been found to exist. He shows by figures that the extent of Government unoccupied waste is a great deal more than 9,683 acres and assuming this to be the case, considers that only 33.7 ^{percent} of the waste area has been taken up by Forest Reservation. 3. The collector also adds that the area forming the subject of this Proceedings is not suitable for purposes of cultivation and that the requirements of the villagers for extension of cultivation have not been overlooked and have been provided for.

On consideration of this assurance, in addition to the collector's surmise that the Taluk has not been over reserved, the Board good policy to regulate the grazing in this district as in others by reservation. It does not seem to me clear from this letter whether there is sufficient land left for extension. The area under cultivation is not given, and a doubt is expressed whether the area left is 2133 acres or 1003.

In its Proceedings, dated 10 January 1894, Forest no. 17, the Board submitted to Government the proposal to notify in the Fort Saint George Gazette, the Guttikonda Extension no. is taken up by Forest Reserves. That there must be some error of this sort is palpable from the fact that the area of further Selections not yet sent up for notification (including the Reserve under Reference) amounts to another 26,680 acres and therefore the total area of reserves amounts to 95,571 acres or more than the total unoccupied land, which is absurd.

7. As regards the area now in question, I have the honor to state that the land is not very suitable for extension of cultivation although as I mentioned in a previous letter there may be patches here and there of fertile soil. The area of waste land in the village is ample considering that the village is not a large one. The Tahsil-dar's figures give 2133 acres of waste, but it is probable that the 1130 acres of this extension have been included therein. Still there are over 1000 acres remaining for extension of cultivation.

Forwarded. The main point seems to be whether the area left for extension of cultivation is sufficient. I believe it moreover not the only reserve in which such inaccuracies have been traced: Launkanamidihha (Repally Taluk) has had to be corrected from 4480 to 2850; Kacumbholler from 667 to 557; and the Karmam figures for the old Reserves in Palnad Taluk show a difference of 25,000 odd acres as compared with the Forest figures. My District Forest Officer is endeavouring to have correct maps prepared and correct figures deduced from them for all the old Reserves where sketch maps were originally submitted with Settlement papers and where the figures were obtained from such sketch maps.

6. Moreover the Taluk map gives the figures for the Taluk as 714 1/4 sq. miles or 457050 acres, and the difference between 242929 acres and 457050 is 214121 acres. Only 91,683 acres are given as unoccupied waste, 25489 are agraharam villages and there is an unaccounted - for balance of 96949 acres. It is possible that a good deal of this (if not all) is unsurveyed area and it is the unsurveyed areas that we are chiefly taking up for "Forests". This will be further enquired into and reported upon. Should this be the case only 33.7% of the waste area is dated 27 February 1894, submitted my District Forest Officer's note on the pullari question. I know that it will be seen that according to the small amount of statistics which we have to rely upon we have not even with the whole of the areas proposed in the letter referred to in the above para sufficient pasture ground for the whole of the cattle of the District. It behoves us therefore to reserve areas wherever they can be found. I am in a position now to give tolerably complete effect to Government's declared policy of "improving and protecting the grazing grounds"; and of affording grazing for all cattle necessary for agricultural or domestic purposes. But I can only do so by reserving every available acre of land. I must also if I am to provide for the whole District, consider the District as a whole and not taluk by taluk.

5. With regard to the figures given, I have the honor to state that too much reliance must not be placed on them. It has recently been found that whereas the figure of the Venkatapuram Reserve has hitherto been accepted as 46,201 acres, the real area on the map is only 40,566 acres. This is which has hitherto been left out with the ultimate intention of forming "Village Forests" under the control of village officials should be reserved now and left under the control of the Department. The Government remarked that all good forest land, however great the extent should be brought under control; and though the obligation on the Forest Department was limited to the supply of fodder for all cattle necessary for agricultural or domestic purposes, the Board is aware that in this district it has never been possible to maintain the distinction between privileged and unprivileged cattle, and that it is in contemplation to abolish that distinction everywhere.

3. The steps that have been taken to carry out Government's ^{direction} have been enumerated in my letter no. 4069 of 9-12-94, which is, as explained in the 2nd para of the Proceedings, Forest no. 262, now on its way to Government.

4. I have also with my letter no. 4311,
