PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

From the Sanitary Commissioner, Madras, 30th May 1867, No. 140; to the Secretary to Government, Military Department, Fort Saint George.

*Received with docket, No. 6996, dated 16th August 1866.

† Received with endorsement, No. 3607, dated 23rd May 1867.

remarks on the three cholera camping grounds selected for the Cantonment of Bellary, plans* and documents† concerning which were forwarded to me through the Quarter^{ly} Master General's Department.

2. The first plan represents the ground selected five miles to the north of Bellary at Kussgul. Its soil appears to be of a red gravelly nature with water from fifteen wells. The distance of these from the ground varies from four to eight hundred yards. Provided the quality of the water is good, I have no objection to offer to this site.

3. The second ground is at Hoonully on the west side of the station at a distance of three miles. Water from wells appears to be plentiful. There appears to be no objection to this site.

4. The third site is at Bissenhully, three miles on the north-east side of Bellary. I object to this site on account of its proximity to the Cuddapah road.

5. The late International Sanitary Conference at Constantinople were unanimous in their conclusion, that an epidemic outbreak of cholera which has a tendency rapidly to exhaust itself and terminate, will certainly be virulently renewed by fresh arrivals. It is on this account that it is of great importance to isolate cholera camps, which is impossible if their sites are near to great high ways.
