Specification of the Boundary between the Districts of North and South Canara as proposed by Majr. Sewell and Rattr.

From the Sea up to the Bridge on the main Coast Road leading from Bhatkal to Parandur (a distance of about 2 miles) the River Bhatkal stream will form the boundary. From the Bridge for about a quarter of a mile south the road itself will be the boundary line. The line will then leave the road nearly at right angles at a place marked by a boundary stone, and passing by a mound called "Kola. Katta" situated a few yards to the east of the road take a north-easterly direction following precisely the road or pathway leading to Kasab, and from a point marked by a boundary stone on the said road south of "Kasab. Katta" strike south as far as another boundary stone set up 100 yards from the limits of a land called "Sarpada Mane" situated to the west.
It will then turn eastward along the road leading to Kuppe, and again then south in a straight line from a point where a boundary stone has been put up on the said road to the west of a spot called "Jethama. Bane" until it meets the Sankadagumma stream at a place marked by a boundary stone.
The line will then follow the Sankadagumma stream for about 6 miles due east until the junction formed with it by the Kopeer Muttat which is thence to form the boundary for about half a mile up to where it joins the ditch called "Halla-bedi". This ditch with them forms the boundary for about half a mile up to the foot of a small hill where about the boundary line is marked by stones. The line then passes between two summer cattle "jodakalli" and leaves open along the south side of a small summer pasture called "Halla-bedi". situated on a hill just below the "Halla-bedi" and the west of a high peak in the hills called "Halla-bedi".
