In reply he refers to para 1 of his remarks under the head of "any other remarks" on the 3d page of the application, and states that it is not possible for him to curtail the remark. In these circumstances, it is for Government to determine [illegible] should be made [illegible] amount of gratuity admissible with reference to Article 514 (b), of the Regulations. He was suspended [illegible]

No. 298/c.

Certified that I have carefully examined T. A. Subramania Sastri son of Anantarama Sastri Revenue Inspector Tiruvanna-~~in the~~ -malai taluq His age is, by his own statement, 34 years, and, by appearance a~~bout~~ 34 years. I consider T. A. Subramania Sastri to be completely and permanently incapacitated for further service of any kind ~~in the~~ pth. ~~Department to which he belongs~~ At., in consequence of Epilepsy

His incapacity does not appear to me to have been caused by irregular or intemparate habits.

DEPUTY 15 NOV 95

13th November 1895.

This officer was sent by the Collector South Arcot for medical examination as to his fitness for further service. There is a history of epilepsy and after the fits he occasionally behaves in an extravagant and demented fashion and is violent and dangerous to others - his self control being then in abeyance. I have not however seen him in this state, but from his appearance and demeanour I judge the reports of credible witnesses to be highly probable.

He has been under the observation of myself for 4 or 5 days and of the Assistant Surgeon for 14 days. He is restless and fidgetty and has a peculiar dazed and shifty expression of countenance. His conversation is rambling, vague, discursive, and disconnected.

L

He

He states [illegible] he went to Rameswaram and there underwent an elaborate course of treatment at the hands of the local Hindu priests. He subsequently was advised to put himself under a hydropathic regimen at Kortallum and believes he experienced benefit therefrom, though not from the former course.

He then contemplated studying for the B. L. degree but was dissuaded by his friends. I am informed that recently he was found wandering about the court yard of a person's house at Tirupapuliur at midnight, and that there was some idea of preferring a criminal charge until it was represented that he was unaccountable for his actions.

On enquiring from himself he gave a confused account of this adventure and added that he wanted to give some girl a present of a half-rupee. After reading the records concerning him, especially the letters of Surgeon Lt. Col. Hyde I have come to the conclusion that T. A. Subramania Sastri is not fit for retention in his last or any other responsible post under Government not only because he is subject to epilepsy but also because prior to and for a certain interval after a fit his mind becomes deranged and he is then dangerous to himself and others.

While during the intervals there is evidence of decided mental impairment. I have therefore granted the accompanying certificate.

Sastri urged in a lucid interval that he might be granted leave for two years as rest might restore his health. I accordingly made a second reference to the District Medical officer and Dr Hyde certified on 16th July 1894 that Subramania Sastri was "Suffering from mental aberration but that with 2 years complete rest I think that he might again become fit for service". and recommended the grant of leave for that period. Subramania Sastri was therefore granted at his own request leave without allowances for two years which does not expire until 1st October 1896. He has however for several months past been constantly pressing me to allow him to return to duty asserting that he was quite well. In granting him leave he was distinctly informed that before being permitted to return to duty in any capacity on the expiry of his two years' leave, he would be required to produce a medical certificate signed by the District Surgeon to the effect that he was mentally and physically fit for further service. Having regard to his iterated assertions that he was quite well – though his appearance and behaviour showed only too plainly that far from having recovered he was in fact much worse and at his special request that he should be sent again for medical examination I sent him to the present District Medical Officer Dr Lee, on the 31st October 1895. He kept Subramania Sastri under observation for about a fortnight and granted the enclosed Statement of case and a Certificate. The latter document did not at first quite tally with the "Statement of case" and has since been amended. The words "of any kind" had originally been scored out instead of "in the department to which he belongs", though it was quite clear from the "Statement of case" what the District Medical Officer intended to convey. To make the point perfectly clear the District Medical Officer was again addressed and Subramania Sastri has now been distinctly declared to be "Completely and permanently incapacitated for further service of any kind in consequence of epilepsy". I have retired him with effect from the date of the medical certificate, 13th November 1895.

I do not consider it necessary to go into the irregularities and eccentricities referred to above as they were probably the outcome of mental aberration incidental to the disease with which he is afflicted, viz Epilepsy. It is sufficient to say that during the last month he has had at least two epileptic fits, has committed several assaults, for one of which he was locked up by the Police for a night and has otherwise conducted himself in a most eccentric way. I don't consider that any notice need be taken of his conduct for which he is not really responsible. I have written to his brother who is a pleader in Tinnevelly to come here and take charge of him and he has replied thanking me for having written to him and promising to come or send for Subramania Sastri. The latter has requested me to convert his leave without allowances into leave on medical certificate. But it cannot be done as it is prohibited by article 267 of the Civil Service Regulations and even if this objection did not exist I do not think such conversion necessary having regard to the manner in which he conducted himself for some months — when drawing full pay — before he was granted leave. Had it not been for the medical certificates I should have been obliged to have dealt severely with him but in the face of those certificates I am of opinion that the most charitable and proper procedure will be to hand him over to the care of his brother and to grant him the gratuity to which he is entitled under the rules.

The applicants' initials (a) T. A are not given in several of the pay bills and his name is spelt in the pay bills and detailed statements in different ways as follows and all these refer to one and the same individual the applicant.

ACCOUNTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE
20 DEC 95
MADRAS

Sir,

In returning herewith your letter of the 12th Decr 1895 No. $\frac{\text{ADK}}{344}$, I have the honour to state that T. A. Subramania Sastri was in June 1887 appointed Sub-protem 2nd clerk in the Temporary Deputy Collector's Office on the understanding that he should revert to his permanent appointment when the temporary duty ceased (vide extract from the Collector's appointment letters dated 20.6.87 and 6.7.87 enclosed).

2. With reference to para 13 of the printed instructions for the preparation of Pension applications, I submit that under the circumstances explained by me in para 8 "any other remarks by the Head of Office" it is not possible to curtail the remark in para 1. My intention was that no reduction need be made in his gratuity on the score of conduct which under the circumstances might be considered to be good.

3. T. A. Subramania Sastri was present here when the application for gratuity was submitted to your office and he was pressed by the Treasury Deputy Collector to affix his signature in column 7 in the Service Register, but he persistently refused to do so. As he is not amenable to reason, there is no use of attempting to obtain his signature and if the Register is put into his hands he may tear it up. He has now gone back to Tinnevelly and much time will be wasted if the book is sent there.

I have the honor to be
Sir
Your most obedient Servant
