Resolution—dated 25th January 1897, No. 60.

In its Proceedings, No. 6370, dated 9th December 1896 read again above, the Board in allotting the only amount then available, viz., Rs. 1,915, to the Ganjám district on the application of the Collector for an additional allotment of Rs. 14,218 for expenditure on Minor Irrigation Works, called upon the Collectors of the other affected districts to report what additional allotments they required for expenditure during the remaining part of the current official year. The letters and telegrams read above are the replies received. The allotments applied for by the Collectors of the districts noted in the margin amount to Rs. 35,800. Adding to this (1) Rupees 18,469, the cost of additional works in Gódávari sanctioned in Board's Proceedings, No. 3272, dated 2nd July 1896 in the expectation that the amount required might be met from savings in other districts; and (2) Rs. 250 applied for by the Collector of Madras to meet the cost of closing the breaches caused in the Mylapore tank during the late north-east monsoon, and the construction of ring bunds to two breaches effected in the bund of the Vyasarpady tank, which was in a dangerous condition on the 7th ultimo, and Rs. 180 applied for by the Collector of Malabar for providing shutters for the drainage culverts near Beypore, the aggregate amount required comes to Rs. 54,699. In Board's Proceedings, No. 6368, dated 9th December 1896, the Collectors of the non-affected districts were asked to report the expenditure up to date, the amount that would be required for the completion of works already put in hand and for the carrying out of such works as could not be postponed till the commencement of the year without serious loss to Government, and the amounts they could surrender out of their district allotments. The amounts surrendered by Collectors aggregate Rs. 15,292 as noted in the margin. Deducting this amount from the total additional amount applied for by Collectors (viz., Rs. 54,699), the excess amount required is Rs. 39,407 or Rs. 39,500 in round numbers. As the Board has no funds at its disposal to meet this additional expenditure, it requests that Government will be pleased to sanction this amount which is required mainly on account of
