4. Famine having made its appearance, the substinance of man and women has become difficult.

5. The relief afforded by Your Excellency has not reached all sets, specially the poor and feeble zenana population have not had its benefits by virtue of their liberty being circumscribed within their walls.

6. The poor and famine stricken musalmans venture to remind to Your Excellency, that during famine of 1892, Gosha women were paid at the rate of 1 anna six pies each and the Royalty of the British Government thus had the honour of saving the lives of the poor Gosha women without prejudices to social and religious customs.

8. The concessions, will ever, commemorate Your Excellency's sojourn of a few days in the memory of both the young and old for ever and the good wishes of Your loyal but helpless subjects shall ever go with Your Excellency.
