My dear Stokes,

I send a few lines in continuation of my D.O. of yesterday. The present system seems to be as follows:-

A collector goes on tour and says a relief work must be started at a certain place, and he writes accordingly to the Superintending Engineer, who may or may not be miles away from his Head Quarters; but as soon as he gets the letter he applies to me for a subordinates and I at once wire for one to proceed to the spot at once; but before he can arrive, it is probably 10 days or more since orders were given to start the work, and the collector then probably reports to the board in the meantime how he had ordered a relief work to be started but that the

My dear Campbell

With reference to your D.O. of the 6th instant regarding complaints of delay in the opening of works, I am directed to say that the difficulty arises because the ordinary P. W. staff of the District only take up the work when driven to it from above and that any trouble would soon cease if an example were made of one or two of these officers. The District staff could certainly arrange to start the works pending the arrival of the special men and they should be made to take the works up themselves in the first instance.

Yours sincerely

In another D. C. received to day Colonel Campbell suggests that collectors should give at least a fortnight's notice to Subdiv. Engineers to stop any work. Some times

C. 8/4/97

is unavoidably lost in their asking for and obtaining super subordinates who carry out the work proposed. Colonel Campbell says that there are over 50 super subordinates now on furlough duty and that he would be in a difficulty if more should be required.

Surely the advisory D.O. District Staff it appears to start the work his other special men arrived. It seems to me that difficulty arises because the District Staff only take up the work when driven to it from above. If an example was made of one or two of these officers the trouble would cease. In this case the Ex. Engr. has been removed because he is useless. If he were appointed as he is in some other Dept. retired then the loss is insignificant. He is transferred to an inferior position and of course becomes more inefficient.

7/4/97

Most certainly it should. The officers of the Gold D. should be taught to take the work up themselves in the first instance. This should be communicated to the Ex. Engr. Campbell. What is the name of the Ex. Engr. who has been removed and where has he been sent? R.B.H. 10.4.97 H.S. Thring has no answer
