RESOLUTION—dated 10th June 1897, No. 426.

Communicated to the Collector of Bellary. The terrible heat of May is now over and the cost of supplying shelter to workers, even of the kind referred to by Government, would always, in the Deccan, and especially in Bellary, be excessive. To provide shelter for 5,000 people spread over several miles of road would probably be impossible, even if the cost were not prohibitive; but, even though the worst weather is past, the heat is still severe. It was 100° at midnight in the Commissioner's camp on the 12th instant. Under the orders of Government now received, the Collector will be able to afford shelter in all cases when it is required, especially for weakly women and nursing mothers.
