Proceedings of the Madras Government

Read the following letter of the Sanitary Commissioner for Madras No 1107/S dated 21st May 1897:-

I have the honour to state for the information of Government with reference to para 163, Famine Code, that I found when inspecting famine works on my late tour that, in the absence of hospitals, no provision exists whereby a person physically fit for work may be temporarily compulsorily stopped from earning his living in the interests of his fellow workers without suffering from loss of pay, which of course, in a period of famine would imply subjection to inanition. A very common affection amongst crowds of famine workers, if the matter does not receive prompt attention by requiring segregation, is the prevalence of conjunctivitis. The persons suffering from this disease may be physically fit to work notwithstanding the great discomfort, if not pain caused by the condition, and may insist upon the right to earn a living. Again, in the case of measles and small-pox, the preliminary symptoms may be so masked as to require a few hours before a definite opinion is given. During this period, the suspect should be kept away from the gangs. The difficulty also may arise at at times of injuries to eyes or limbs caused on the works - when a short rest would put matters right; advanced pregnancy affords also a case where it would be desirable to cause abstinence of work in the interests of the person concerned, as I have known women toil till actually delivered on the Famine Works.

Under the above circumstances, there seems to me room for a provision that a medical officer in charge of a work may direct on medical grounds either in the interest of the patient himself or of those associated with him that for a definite period no labor shall be given on the works. This might be arranged by the medical officer giving a certificate extending to no longer a period than five days without further observation stating the disability. Persons suffering from disabilities should be required to assemble for examination at a special spot sufficiently removed from the famine relief work marked by a Hospital flag on the day of the expiry of their leave certificates or if the medical officer so desires, should attend them daily. The names of the persons should be borne on their respective gang rolls, and C wages be accorded so long as they obey the medical officer's directions. The certificate might be given in the following form: -

I (Name-Rank) in medical charge of the Famine Relief works do hereby certify that relief worker - - - of Gang No: - - - is suffering from - - - (or) is suspected by me to to be suffering from - - - I consider that the C wage should be allowed him (her) without labour for a period of (not exceeding five) days.

Order thereon No. 429 dated 3rd June 1897.

The suggestion of the Sanitary Commissioner is approved. In the absence of a medical officer, the certificate may be issued by the officer in charge of the work. The Famine Commissioner will be requested to issue instructions accordingly. (True Extract)

With reference to Board's Proceedings No. 425 dated 9th June 1897 Pres, I have the honor to state that in this district arrangements have already been made for most of the cases specified by the Sanitary Commissioner but instead of keeping them on the gang rolls they are placed on gratuitous relief which is now organised in the affected tracts. I think this is better than giving them wages, for, to obtain the latter, they must attend the works whereas gratuitous relief
