GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

Read—again the following paper:—

From G. S. FORBES, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Madras, Educational Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, dated Fort St. George, 30th December 1896, No. 795, Educational.

I am directed to address you on the subject of the payment to Government officers of remuneration for conducting University examinations and other public examinations.

2. In paragraph 7 of the Home Department (Judicial) Resolution No. 8, dated 3rd February 1877, it is ruled that Government servants may conduct University examinations and other examinations of a similar character and receive remuneration for their services. Accordingly, Government servants are in the habit of accepting examinerships in the University and of receiving honoraria therefor without obtaining any special permission for doing so. The Accountant-General objects to this practice and considers that Government officers should previously obtain the special sanction required under article 91 (c), Civil Service Regulations. In the opinion of His Excellency the Governor in Council the Accountant-General's view of the question appears to be correct, but as it will necessitate frequent correspondence with the Government of India in the cases in which the amount of remuneration exceeds Rs. 500, I am directed to request that if there is no objection this Government may also be given authority to sanction, under article 91 (c), the acceptance by such persons of honoraria exceeding Rs. 500 in amount when such honoraria are offered in respect of University and other public examinations, which this Government may have permitted them to undertake.

Read—also the following paper:—

From L. M. THORNTON, Esq., Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Public), to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Educational Department, dated Simla, the 10th April 1897, No. 521.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 795, Educational, dated the 30th December 1896, and, in reply, to say that, with a view to give effect to the suggestion made by the Government of Madras, the Governor-General in Council has decided to modify article 91 (c) of the Civil Service Regulations by substituting for the last two lines thereof of the following:—

"Above Rs. 500 in the case of fees for conducting University examinations the Local Government, and in other cases, the Government of India in the Administrative Department concerned."

Order—No. 380, Educational, dated 7th July 1897.

The modification of article 91 (c) of the Civil Service Regulations in respect of University examinations will be communicated to all departments of the Secretariat, to the Accountant-General, to the Director of Public Instruction, and to the Commissioner for Government Examinations, for information and guidance.
