It is the Beach Railway Project, according to which the Madras, the South Indian and the East Coast Railway form a terminus on the Beach.

* The Board says that, if the H.T.B. is not willing to refund the money spent on the building & take it, the building should be completed "without further delay & used for the purpose for which it is designed which is a matter of considerable urgency," and that very little is required to complete the building. - flag A.

Dr. 11/20/1897.

Gps - I don't think we can order the completion of the building, if, as seems probable, it will soon have to be pulled down again to facilitate the new railway arrangements.
