G.O. 830 August 1897 No 4534 ^{ms}

In the Court of Wards Bill now under consideration, provision will be made, with reference to the reply ~~to the~~ reply of the Govt of India which has been received, enabling the Court of Wards to take under its management the Estates of embarrassed proprietors. There is every prospect of the Bill becoming law during the next Session of the Legislative Council offices. It is ^{expedient} however possible to keep possibly the Court may refuse to grant a back any statement of these facts - further adjournment on these grounds

From the Court - and ~~should it be necessary to apply for it.~~ The Court ^{it} ~~will~~ therefore furnish to ~~the Court~~ as as much of the information now furnished as he finds necessary ~~for~~ complying with the Court's request to induce it to grant a further adjournment.

prefer to tell the collector that we hope to have the matter definitely settled by the end the year (getting a check and your word there if necessary). I would say nothing about fresh legislation, because if the Judge were told that the Govt. wishes the rules restricted now, in order that it may have time to pass a fresh law taking away from the creditors the rights which they now possess, ^{the} might offend his judicial conscience he might refuse an adjournment of such a further issue alleged.

It would not be well to tell the Com. how the matter stands and to leave it to him to decide to the Court as much as he finds necessary - leaving him in the hands of H.R.
