Proceedings of the Board of Revenue (Revenue Settlement Land Records - Agriculture)

Dated 19 July 1897

No. 5490 Miss

Read the following G.O. No. 553, dated 10 July 1897 Read the following proceedings of the Board of Revenue Revenue Settlement No. 4040 Miss dated 28 June 1897:—

Read the following letter from the Collector of Bilari, dated 8 June 1897, Cur No. 2518 A:—

One or two applications for loans for the relief of distress have been received and I think it is probable that if this form of relief were offered, it would be taken to a somewhat large extent. To those agriculturists who have neither money nor grain left, such loans would be invaluable but as it care would be necessary in distinguishing between the really needy and the applicants who have some stock of money or grain or both in hand; for nine-tenths of the latter would gladly borrow money without interest. I believe, however that this discrimination could be made with fair prospects of success, and if the Board will allot the necessary funds, I will do my best to use the money with judgment and economy.

To frame a trustworthy estimate is not easy, but I think that Rs 100,000 is the lowest figure at which the expenditure could be put. This would give 5,000 rupees to Rs 5 a month for four months. Against this expenditure, we could set off some saving in the wages paid to relief workers, for except in very special cases, I would give these loans only to pattidars who had resorted to the relief works. That is not an universally sworn fact of absolute poverty but it is at least a good indication of it

3 I request the favor of very early orders, for the Cultivation season is now beginning and unless we give quickly, it will be of little use to give at all.

Resolution

The letter read above will be submitted for the orders of Government. Under the rules framed under the Agriculturists Loans Act (XII of 1834), small loans repayable within three years may be granted to cultivators and occupiers of land to enable them and their dependents to subsist until the reaping of the winter harvest.

The Collector of Bellary proposes to advance loans of about Rs 20 to about 5000 distressed peasants who are either now or will be working on their land. The Finance Commissioner supports the proposal and believes it possible to restrict the loans to deserving cases. He is and apprehends that there may be difficulty in recovering the loans in some cases but thinks that the loss on the whole is not likely to be large. The rule has not yet been made use of, & the experiment now recommended by the Collector would not be without interest. The Board accordingly recommends that the Collector be permitted to advance a sum not exceeding one lakh in the manner proposed.

It is not possible to grant money
