The District Medical and Sanitary officer replies.

Agreeably to your requisition No 837 dated 30th March 1898, I proceeded to the village in question on the 31st in company with the Deputy Magistrate of Culcutta and the village officials. The village of Kathalur is situated on an open dry land and consists of 30 or 40 pariah huts. I visited every hut and inspected all the occupants present and found all in very good health except a few children suffering from slight bronchitis.

2. The 2 deaths that occurred in in the village lately within a few days of each other are the ones referred to in the report of the Subripett hospital assistant. From careful inquiry of the relations of the deceased, it seems very probable that one died from erysipelas and the other from carbuncle. A third man suffered from mumps but was almost quite well and doing his usual work.

3. It was the Sub Registrar of Subripett that reported to the 'Hindu' about 'Plague' in the Kathalur village apparently on no other ground than the fact that 3 persons took ill and 2 died within a few days of each other. This officer took no trouble to consult the local

Local medical officer and the magisterial officer before writing to a respectable public journal on a subject of such serious import, and his action in doing so can be only characterised as foolish and indiscreet, for which he ought to be taken to task by the proper authorities.
