3	Kamadana Venkata Narasimha Ramachandra Row	29	By Government.	Kamadana Papayya Row.	2nd son of the original grantee.	RS. A. P. 7,200 0 0	After the estates of Vinakota and Gadivada were sold for arrears of peishkash in 1843, an allowance of Rs. 1,000 per month was sanctioned in E.M.C. No. 214 of 28th February 1850, to the ex-Zemindar Papayya Row. The Government observed that the allowance was to cease on his death, but it was also stated that the position and claims of his relations who might survive him would be a matter for consideration. Papayya Row died on 17th January 1876, leaving two sons behind him. The monthly allowance of Rs. 1,000 paid to him was split up and ordered to be distributed as follows—vide G.O., dated 28th August 1876, No. 1180. The Board, in its Proceedings, dated 5th August 1876, No. 1882, said that the allowance being given up to Government, should be treated as hereditary as in similar cases under G.O., dated 6th December 1871, No. 2063. The Government Order is, however, silent on this point, but the recommendation of the Board for the continuance of the pension has been adopted:— RS. A. P. After the death of Sobhanadri Row in October 1883, the allowance was continued by the Board in the name of his undivided brother Jagannadha Row, the present holder, the former having left no issues to succeed him. 9	Manikya Row Tirumalamma Gari.	28	By Government.	Manikya Row, Zanganna Row.	Daughter-in-law, that is widow of Gopal Row, son of Zanganna Row.	Rs. 3,600 0 0	Hereditary.—When the Répalle estate was sold for arrears of peishch in 1844 and bought in along with certain other estates by Government, an allowance of Rs. 300 per mensem was sanctioned in the name of Zanganna Row, who enjoyed it until his death in 1870. The allowance was then renewed in the name of his son, Venkata Gopala Row subject to a deduction of Rs. 50 a month payable for life to his step-mother. By the terms of despatch No. 1 of 1849 of the late Court of Directors, the stipends of the five ex-Zemindars of the Guntur district (of which this is one) were considered hereditary so long as the family was represented by lineal descendants in the male line including adoptions. The Government have since pronounced that the pensions are inheritable by heirs, either natural or adopted, without limitation in perpetuity (vide G.O., dated 2nd October 1871, No. 1720). Accordingly, on the death of Venkata Gopala Row, on 22nd October 1883, and of his step-mother Lakshmayya on 18th December 1883, the Government, in their order No. 240, dated 19th February 1884, sanctioned the sum total of their allowances, viz., Rs. 300, in the name of Gopala Row's widow, Tirumalamma Gari, the present holder and to descend to any son she might adopt.	G.O., dated 19th February 1884, No. 240.
10	Malrazu Venkata-narasimha Row.	20	Do.	Malrazu Lakshmayya widow of Venkata Gunda Row.	Grandson	9,600 0 0	Hereditary.—While the Malrazu estate of the late Guntur district was under attachment for arrears of peishch, an allowance of Rs. 1,000 per mensem was sanctioned in Extract of Minutes of Consultation of 23rd May 1839, No. 658, in the name of Malrazu Lakshmayya, widow of late Venkata Gunda Row. The estate having then been sold with five others for arrears of revenue due to Government, and the widow having died, the Secretary of State in his despatch, No. 6 of 16th February 1864, embodied in G.O., dated 2nd April 1864, No. 550, sanctioned the payment of an allowance of Rs. 800 per mensem to her adopted son, Venkata Kondal Row and to his male descendants. Under the ruling of 1871 quoted in the case of Manikya Row Tirumalamma Gari, No. 9 above, the stipend was continued to Kondal Row's adopted son, the present incumbent—vide order quoted in column 8. 11	Manuri Venkataramanayya Row.	26	By Government.	Manuri Venkata Hanumayamma.	Adopted son	Rs. 1,800 0 0	Hereditary.—The Chilikaturp estate of the late Guntur district was another of the five zemindaries attached and sold for arrears of peishch, an allowance of Rs. 300 per mensem (Rs. 150 to Venkata Hanumayamma and Rs. 150 to Venkata Row) being sanctioned to the then possessors of the estate (vide E. M. C. No. 1645, of 1st August 1842). The grant was confirmed in the home despatch No. 1 of 1849 and was restricted like the others to the lineal male descendants in the family. When Venkata Hanumayamma died in 1869, her share of the allowance, Rs. 150 per mensem, was renewed in the name of present holder, her adopted son—vide G.O., No. 2063, of 6th December 1871. The Government having since (G.O., dated 2nd October 1871, No. 1720) recognized that an allowance granted in lieu of property given up to Government was inheritable by heirs natural or adopted, without limitation in perpetuity, the grant is considered hereditary. Hereditary.—Venkata Row, grandfather of the present holder, was the ex-proprietor of the Talur Sub-division of the late Chilikaturp estate referred to in the preceding case. On the resumption of the estate by Government in 1846, Bharamma, Venkata Row's widow, was granted an allowance of Rs. 150 per mensem, and the same was after her death renewed in the name of her adopted son Venkatakrishna Narasimha Row in 1848. Upon his death in 1872, the allowance was continued to his widow Seshamma—vide G.O., No. 237, of 28th February 1873. In the year 1873, she adopted a boy of 11 years old named Venkata Row, the present holder. The fact of the adoption was reported in Mr. Leman's letter, No. 326, of 6th March 1874, to the Board whose orders in the matter (No. 495 of 1st April 1873) were recorded in G.O., No. 469, of 12th May 1873. On the recommendation of the Collector for the continuance of the allowance in the name of the adopted son Venkata Row, on his attaining majority, the Board in their Proceedings, No. 1188, dated 16th April 1885, sanctioned the registry of the allowance accordingly. The allowance is said to be hereditary as long as the family continues to be represented by heirs, natural or adopted—vide G.O., No. 1720, of 2nd October 1871.	G.O., dated 6th December 1871, No. 2063.
12	Manuri Venkata Row.	25	Do.	Manuri Venkata Row.	Grandson, that is adopted son of Venkata Krishna Narasimha Row.	1,800 0 0		Board's Proceedings, dated 16th April 1885, No. 1188.

13	Vasireddi Venkata Lakshmi Narasimha Naidu. 24-27	1847	By Government.	Vasireddi Jagannatha Baboo.	Grandson.	Rs. 12,000 0 0	This is the great-grandson of late Vasireddi Venkata Naidu whose estate was subjected to so much litigation. The pension of Rs. 750 which used to be paid to his adoptive mother Venkata Lakshmanam was transferred to him with an increase of Rs. 250. Venkata Lakshmi Narasimha Naidu thus draws now the full amount of pension enjoyed by his father Lakshmi Naidu. This is the amount of pension originally granted to the zemindar of Vasireddi estate and continued as a special case to the adopted son of the late zemindar and his heirs. The allowance is inheritable by heirs natural or adopted without limitation in perpetuity—vide G.O., No. 1720 of 2nd October 1871.	G.O., No. 907, dated 27th August 1873.
14	Vasireddi Dasaradhi Naidu. 38-41	1847	Do.	Parvatamma, 2nd wife of Vasireddi Jagannatha Baboo.	Grandson.	1,800 0 0	Ramanatha Baboo, the 2nd of the two sons adopted by Venkata Naidu, was in G.O., No. 736 of 1850, granted a subsistence allowance of Rs. 300, on the score of his being deprived of his monthly allowance of Rs. 1,000 which was transferred by a decree of the Privy Council to Jagannatha Baboo, 1st adopted son of Venkata Naidu.	(1) G.O., No. 403, dated 11th March 1875. (2) G.O., No. 748, dated 17th May 1875. (3) G.O., No. 2356, dated 11th December 1879. (4) G.O., No. 1299, dated 16th October 1883.
15	Vasireddi Gnanaprasanna Samba. 39-42	1847	Do.	Do.	Grandson's widow.	1,800 0 0	On the death of Ramanatha Baboo, an allowance of Rs. 150 only was sanctioned in the name of his widow Papamma for life—vide G.O., No. 2028 of 1878. Papamma, widow of Dasaradhi Naidu and Sivaprasada Naidu, was in G.O., No. 2256 of 11th December 1879, being deprived of her monthly allowance of Rs. 1,000 which was transferred by a decree of the Privy Council to Jagannatha Baboo, 1st adopted son of Venkata Naidu.

G.O., No. 237 of 29th January 1861. On the death of Parvatamma, adoptive mother, and Papamma, widow of Ramanatha Baboo, Rs. 306 (Rs. 150 out of Parvatamma's allowance of Rs. 2028 of 1878 and full allowance of Rs. 150 of Papamma) were sanctioned to be paid to Ramanatha Baboo's sons, Dasaradhi Naidu and Sivaprasada Naidu—vide G.O., No. 403, of 11th March 1875; G.O., No. 748 of 17th May 1875; and G.O., No. 2256 of 11th December 1879. Dasaradhi Naidu and Sivaprasada Naidu for sometime drew their pension on a single P. P. order enjoying it in equal shares according to a private agreement. On the death of Sivaprasada Naidu, his allowance of Rs. 150 was sanctioned in the name of his widow Gnanaprasanna and a separate P. P. order was issued—vide G.O., No. 1292 of 16th October 1883. As this pension is connected with the Vasireddi estate, one of the five estates of Guntur district, mentioned in G.O., No. 1720 of 1871, it is treated as hereditary under G.O., No. 1292 of 16th October 1883.

16	Vasireddi Padmanabharanah. 24-35	1794	By Government.	V. Chendramowli Naidu.	Great-grandson.	Rs. 4,620 0 0	The original grantee Chendramowli Naidu was the cousin of Venkata Naidu who kept him in confinement and subjected him to much severity. The Government therefore took him under their protection and directed that a sufficient allowance for his maintenance be made by Venkata Naidu; accordingly a pension of Rs. 385 per mensem was bestowed upon Chendramowli Naidu in 1794.	G.O., No. 1471, dated 2nd July 1867.
17	Manuri Janikarow. 29-35	1837	By Government.	Manuri Venkata Kondal Row.	Son.	1,920 0 0	When the Vasireddi estate was taken over by Government, this pension was reduced to Rs. 192 and continued to his grandson Naidamma. On his death, the pension of Rs. 385 was restored to his son Padmanabharanah who had attained his majority. He being one of the members of the family of Vasireddi Venkata Naidu whose estate was taken by Government, this allowance is also hereditary as stated in Board's letter to Government, dated 8th January 1829, referred to in paragraph 4 of the Collector's letter in G.O., No. 1471, dated 2nd July 1867, and also under G.O., No. 1720 of 2nd October 1871. grand-father of the present holder, a monthly allowance of Rs. 333 per mensem to be paid through the Collector of the Guntur district and charged to the estate. On the death of Janikarow, his allowance of Rs. 333 was continued in the name of his 2nd son Venkata Kondal Row (the first son having died issueless) who used to pay Rs. 72 to Lakshmidewamma, his brother's widow, under a private agreement. Subsequently the estate was brought under Government management and Venkata Kondal Row's allowance was reduced from Rs. 333 to Rs. 160. Lakshmidewamma's allowance being at the same time proportionately reduced to Rs. 36. On the death of Venkata Kondal Row his allowance was in G.O., No. 310 of 14th March 1873, continued to his widow Annakamma subject of course, to a deduction of Rs. 36 payable to Lakshmidewamma on a separate P. P. order for life. When Annakamma died, her allowance was renewed in the name of her adopted son Janikarow, the present holder (vide G.O., No. 379 of 14th April 1862), on the same conditions. Lakshmidewamma, also having subsequently died, her share of allowance, namely Rs. 36 per mensem, reverted to Janikarow, the head of the family—vide G.O., No. 27, dated 11th January 1884. The present allowance of Janikarow, the present holder, is thus Rs. 160 per mensem. This allowance also is hereditary, as it belongs to the Manuri estates which is one of the five estates referred to in G.O., No. 1720, dated 2nd October 1871.
