A further search has since been made among the books brought down from ootacamund & the copy for 95-96 has been found among the books ~~(with the list of books brought down herewith for that copy)~~. The book was received on the 16th March last. Copy for 1893-94 is not available but the one for 1892-93 is enclosed (as I thought!)

Also the reveiw for 1892-93
1894-95
1895-96
are enclosed. That for 93-94 is missing.

Q. XI-98

How does it come about that no copies of the Standard reference reports are available in the Records of Honorable the Office? Rules are so often had of hand as these. On other days I found the 2nd part wholly ignorant of the existence or rather utility of these Meteorological Reports. I suppose the 1st dept compiles them, reports at great expense & then the 2nd dept files them away in the stores.

The enquiry ordered was then made, but no papers marking a direct reference to these reports was found. Meteorological Reports should be stocked here or else they should be maintained in the Records Office.

2. Prior to 1891, a number of copies of the Madras Meteorological Reports were received in this office appears to have been 31 of which 29 copies were sent to each Board of Revenue & the Museum. A single copy being retained for office use. In that year the Court of Directors fixed the number of copies
