March 1898 (Circ. 2348 of 98)

Secretary

The Collector of Lardarri applies for the supply of a typewriting machine for the use of his office: he regards reduction of establishment; he urges that the establishment as it is, is extremely overworked having "always a good deal more on hand"
"than it can do notwithstanding"
"that the clerks work out of office hours also and on holidays. The only therefore that a typewriting copyist can afford them is no more than "just sufficient to allow them a little breathing time. Should reduction be held indispensable, however, I propose to dispense with a clerk on Rs 15 in "three months after the supply of "the machine." But the Board of Revenue recommends that the Collector may be supplied with a machine on the understanding that one appointment of a clerk on Rs 15 is abolished three months after receipt of the machine.
Orders are requested as to whether the supply of a machine to the Collector may be sanctioned on the condition stated by the Board.

C23/4/98

2. In this connection, attention is solicited to the note under G.O. 1491 of 28.3.98. In that ^{order} ~~note~~, the supply of a machine for the use of each of the Collectors' offices in Kistna and Sirmirelly was sanctioned on the understanding that the budget provision for 1898-99 was not exceeded.

It is just possible that some other persons may apply for the machines in the course of this year and the supply is sanctioned from time to time as applications are received, the Supt of Stationery may find it inconvenient to send separate orders for the machines. The Board of ^{Revenue may be} requested to ascertain and report whether any other Collectors are likely to apply for the machines this year and whether the Supt of Stationery could supply the number required and if so when.
