Read letter from the Chemical Examiner, Madras, No. 515, dated 8th March 1893, requesting that the contemplated transfer of the two salt analysers to the staff of the Abkhari Deputy Commissioner may be held in abeyance until orders of Government have been obtained in the matter.

Resolution.

The Chemical Examiner will be informed that the Board in stating that it had it in contemplation to transfer the two assistant analysers who are paid from the Salt Revenue had no such immediate transfer as he appears to suppose in contemplation nor had it any intention of making the transfer without consulting him and taking the approval of Government. His being informed of it (as he) was not due to accident but to the fact that the Board's proposals were not ready when he made his suggestions for a revision of the grading of his assistants.

Read letter from the Chemical Examiner, Madras, No. 515, dated 8th March 1898, requesting that the contemplated transfer of the two assistant salt analysers to the staff of the Abkari Deputy Commissioner may be held in abeyance until orders of Government have been obtained in the matter.

The Chemical Examiner will be informed that the Board in stating that it had it in contemplation to transfer the two assistant analysers who are paid from the Salt Revenue had no such immediate transfer as he appears to suppose in contemplation nor had it any intention of making the transfer without consulting him and taking the approval of Government. His being informed of it (as he) was not due to accident but to the fact that the Board's proposals were not ready when he made his suggestions for a revision of the grading of his assistants.

2. The Board recognizes and appreciates to the full the work done for it by the Chemical Examiner. It was because it found that the volume of the work was increasing year by year and forming apparently matter of complaint by him, that it resolved on the appointment of a trained chemist to the post of Assistant Deputy Commissioner, to relieve him of it, as soon as it could make arrangements to do so. It regrets that it should have appeared discourteous in the manner in which it first declared this intention.
