It can give it some idea as to the date on which orders on the resettlement may be expected to be issued.

2. The Deputy Commissioner proposes to employ all temporary and most of the permanent hands for the next three months in preparing the annual account (Village account No 2) which the Settlement Department will have to furnish to the Revenue Department after the new rates are introduced. This account is required for the introduction of the new survey numbers and areas into the Revenue accounts, and must embody the sub-divisions measured by the party since the Settlement Register was prepared. The work is not superfluous; but under present circumstances can be only partially performed and will have to a large extent be done over again, if the new rates are not introduced in the current season.
