Of the two officers of the Marine Department Lt Commander Severs has been released from military duty. Commander Huddleston's services were requisitioned by the Govt and we have no information whether he has been released.

SKS
12.9.19

I understand that he has retired, but in any case he is scarcely a Madras officer but an imperial officer lent for a time to a Madras department. Even if he came back to ordinary duty we should have no claim on his services & I don't think his name need be included. It also seems unnecessary to include Mr Thomas (Agriculture) who is on civil duty in Mesopotamia & whose services we have specifically stated that we are willing to spare for another year.

2. Please see pages 15-17 ante. The Controller General says that no information is available as regards Mr. Peck and presumably he is still on military duty. As, however, Mr. Peck's posting on return to civil duty will be done by the Controller General (p 16 ante), his ~~na~~ name may perhaps be omitted as in the case of Marine officers – cf. notes on page 2 ante.

3 As regards Mr. Wright, please see the P.M.G's note on p 24 ante. It is stated that he has been granted furlough for 6 months by the India office but it is not clear whether he has reverted to civil duty. His name may perhaps be included in the list; the available particulars ~~as~~ about him being given against his name

I think it is clear that he must have been released or he would not have been entitled to furlough. May be omitted.
