To the British Consul General,

New York.

In reply to yours of May first concerning Miss Inez Jones, I beg to say that I have known this young lady, and indeed her whole family, for a number of years. She was a member of my classes when I was a professor in the University here and I know her well. She is a most estimable woman, well worthy to carry on missionary work in any part of the world. She will be loyal and lawabiding wherever she lives and her influence in any community will be helpful. I commend her without reservation for the work for which she is an applicant, and can assure you that you will never have occasion to regret her entrance into any part of the British Commonwealth.

I am, myself a Canadian by birth, and a former British subject.

Respectfully,

Dear Sir,

Replying to your inquiry of May 1st regarding Miss Inez J.Jones, who has given my name as a reference:

Will say I have known Miss Inez J.Jones for eight or nine years, four years of which she was member of my Bible Class. I have no hesitancy in saying that she is a woman of fine Christian character who is in love with her work as a trained nurse, and have great confidence in her discretion and loyalty. I also feel that her attitude toward British rule is absolutely true. During years of close friendship I have never seen anything done or said by her that would cause the least suspicion with regard to her loyalty or lead one to question her willingness to submit to those in authority. She has a sister who is now in the Mission field in Nellore, India.

If this does not cover the points in question, shall be glad to answer any further questions which you may wish to submit.

Respectfully yours,
(Sd.) Herbert Cass.
