This village was granted to one Velayagudi Venkataswamygar on a permanent annual rent of 40 Pagodas for the support of 3 Chaitanya Chattris erected by his father at Santeshwar, on the High Road from Madras to Penukottacherry. The Grant granted in 1612 declares that the grant is to be considered as attached to the 3 Chattris and that in the event of these Chattris not being ^{fully} maintained, or any of the buildings thereto belonging being allowed to fall to decay, the village shall lapse to Government and the grant held null and void. It is moreover stipulated that in the event of official maintenance, any surplus revenue derivable from the said village (after meeting the charges of Chattris) may be appropriated to the use of the Monasteries. The Chattri was maintained uninterruptedly for 2 generations, when on the death of Venkataswamygar the son of the grantee in 1630, one Venkataswamygar was taken in adoption. The proceeds of the village were as usual appropriated during the management of the latter individual to the support of the Chattri.

On his death however, which occurred in 1850, a division of the property took place, dividing the same family was dealt with very erroneously, like any other private property, and it was allowed to pass into the hands of Prince Kiammachichemmal the adoptive mother of the deceased and the daughter-in-law of the grandeur ^{her} the maintenance while the widow of the deceased, with the apparent understanding that the charges were to be borne from her own private funds. Inconsistent and objectionable as the arrangement was, the then Collector (Mr. Stone) admitted the application of the parties for the refuting of the village in the sole name of Peira Kammalammal for her personal benefit.

The object of the grant evidently seems to have escaped the attention of the authorities. This error was not discovered till lately in 1853, when a correspondence ensued between the Collector and the Board, on the subject, at the instance of certain complaints preferred by the Tiniamamudram Mungals. The Board finding that it was late somewhat late to rectify the mistake and that the charities had nevertheless been kept up, by one of the members of the family observed that it would be inadvisable to interfere, especially as the village was liable to revert to Government on the death of the present parties, and that it would be imprudent to warn the family that unless the charities are well maintained, it will be at the pleasure of the Government to resume the grant. This is the last decision on record. Each of the ^{two} widows Peira Kammalammal, and Chinnia Kammalammal claim for the refuting in her name of the grant, now under notice, the former upon the title of her predecessor and the latter as the present manager of the charity, and upon the question of right and as the legal ^{successor} ~~successor~~ of her late husband, the adopted son of the grantee, and the last holder of the property. The decision of the Board is not clear and does not make the difficulty, and rather has it put on end to the dispute between the parties. The ground taken for withholding interference, if said to be

Pirya Khamatshammur Appeals

The case is fully stated by the Deputy Collector. The village was made over to Pirya Khamatshammur by Chinia Khamatshammur by a deed of partition, which places no restriction whatever on her enjoyment of the village or reserves any right of reversion to Chinia Khamatshammur and the latter thereby undertakes to keep the Choultry in repair from the other property inherited by her. Registration was made accordingly in the name of Pirya Khamatshammur by the Collector and this was approved by the Board of Revenue. Chinia Khamatshammur cannot now be allowed to raise claims to the village, regardless of partitions entered into by her. I beg to recommend therefore that the village be confirmed to Pirya Khamatshammur for life reserving it to Government to continue it to the Choultry after her death or to resume it. If the Choultry is in the meantime neglected by Chinia Khamatshammur, ~~it~~ can be made over to Pirya Khamatshammur and she can be compelled to keep it in repair from the proceeds of the village.

The liability of the grant to reversion on the death of the parties, this condition does not appear in the original Khamat ~~book~~ or the subsequent records. Nothing therefore upon the spirit of the stipulations made down in the original Khamat, I would recommend the setting of the village, in the name of the Chinia Khamatshammur, the widow of the last holder, leaving Pirya Khamatshammur, now in her former possession to ask redress in the Courts for her subsistence funds. This view has been fully taken by Mr. Shubert, the late Collector whose report above quoted contains full history of the whole proceedings. It moreover appears from that paper that one of 3 buildings, the Choultry intended for European travellers is not in existence from a long time, and that Chinia Khamatshammur then questioned on the subject by the Collector proposed her intention to restore it. The same question was proposed to her during the present enquiry, and she has given in a Mutschaka (bond and) to construct the building within 3 months from this date to be confirmed to the 3 Choultry so long as the object of the original grant is duly fulfilled, subject to the payment of the annual rent of 90 Pagodas. The Tahsildar of Comptons has been instructed to report on the restoration of the 3rd Choultry at the end of the present term.
