

Register No. 164
Sheet No. 86

1 This is one of the Devasayan Village in the perrinancy of Ramaswaram - This was granted by the perrinancy of all for the support of the Temple of Valmiki -
- is produced before me The Temple is apparently kept up - Daily ceremonies are observed - No Ekman about the area though there is an encyclo in it -
- All these lands are situated within the proper limits of the Village. The boundaries ~~are~~ correspond one to one in the account of July 1846 -
- There is one Tank in the Village. It is fed by Temple stream. The waste lands are cultivated. Soil of a superior quality -
- Average net profits are 20% as per statement of the perrinancy. My valuation comes to 327 rupees - The Temple has another Village known by the
- name of Kankolem -

This image shows a close-up of a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. The left edge of the page is slightly irregular, suggesting it might be part of a bound volume.
