Valuation

1 Wet lands depend upon two large & four small Tanks - They are sown in strength - They are fed by an impounded Jungle Stream & by the waste water of the adjacent Villages - The Tank is filled ~~annually~~ annually in ordinary seasons - In the remarkable Register by the Mahajanams 133 Acre of Soil & 208 Acre of Dry are placed as waste lands - They say before me that the Register was prepared by the Jurnum & that there is no much waste lands in the Village - & that the Jurnum placed through ignorance some part of the lands as waste - The Jurnum disappeared himself & I was unable to secure his attendance - It is committed by all the Mahajanams & particularly by the Charidars who hold extensive shares that the Jurnum's account is false - Hence, it is proved that there is no much waste lands in the Village - Wet lands are fallow 2 times a year 1/10 of the area occasionally - & sometimes annually - Scarcity of Water is felt occasionally - Soil is of a medium character generally. Harvest is moderate - On the whole the Village is in flourishing state - The land is generally fertile & the influence of the supplying channel is a substantial one - Turbidity is raised in 7 or 8 Acre - more wells - There are some lands that are impregnated with salt - I have no materials to determine the average price of the adjacent wet lands that are settled on a strong system by the Jurnum - The average rates of the adjacent Ayan Village of Kattasol & Katooray are at 5-9-7 per acre - There are no Ayan Villages in junction with the lands under Settlement - The said Village Kattasol & Katooray is situated at a distance of 2 or 3 miles from the Darnasaram under Settlement - In the adjacent Phulthum & Devadigum Village, Terwar is leased for Dry lands at 8 Rs per Acre - In the Village of Poompamunayalam in which the Darnasaram under Settlement is situated - There are some Dry lands which bear heavy assessment but in the lands situated in the vicinity of the Darnasaram under Settlement, the Dry lands bear a light assessment, soil being of a most superior quality - The average profits of the Village are 500 Aps as per statement of the Mahajanams - There is not one - The statement A inserted on the 2 side of the first sheet will show - The capabilities of soil of the Village in which the Darnasaram is situated -

After weighing the fertility of soil & I frame the valuation of the Village as follows with the aid of the following

Wet 275 Acres - at 40 pce per acre = 1100

Dry 280 Acres at 36 pce per acre = 1008

in consideration of cultivation & value of soil through the soil & of the same as that of the only allowing change in fertility
