Pavasi Damuam in the Aronaty Inangalan Talug on the boundary E. State of Namiana

17. Wet lands depend upon two Tanks. One is large & another small. They are fed by jungle streams. New Tanks are the joint property of both the Aron & the Damuam portions of the village - big ones are cultivated annually. The rest are about 10 years waste. The lands are left uncultivated from want of water. The Tanks being the joint property of the Aron & of the Mahazarams, the latter find some difficulty to have a free use of water in the Tanks before the Aron lands are cultivated. Lands are not of a very superior quality. Wet lands are not cultivated at times to some extent - occasionally - 30 acres of Dry lands are of 30 to 40 years waste. Punjab lands are of a medium quality. Timber covered in the village. There are 10000 Palmyra trees in the village. The average net profits of the Mahazarams as per statement of the Aron are 103-13 per annum. This is not very fair. The average rates of Gool Taluqs as well as of the Aron villages are given on the back of this Register. The Wet lands produce moderately. Dry lands also produce to some extent. With reference to the Aron & to the Mahazarams, I frame the valuation of the village with the aid of the Mahazarams & that of the neighbouring villages, as follows, making the Mahazarams grow with reference to the old prices -

Wet full 18 1/2 at 3 P. per acre - 1458
