

Register No. 273
 Sheet No. 1

I This is one of the Devasthanam Villages situated within the limits of the Zamindari of Raminad. This was granted for the support of the Temple of the Lord Jagannath in Darasenan in 1683. This is a Patta on a copper plate. The Village was not attached any time. The Temple is apparently kept up. The festival is performed. This is a small hamlet.

II The present area of the Village exceeds that given in the account of 1726 by 385 acres. These are situated on the proper limits of the Village. The boundaries met with the approval of the Zamindari Patta. Hence the area of 695 acres is confirmed here.

III Panchabunds are of a medium proportion. No waste lands. 203 acres are left waste since the last 2 years as per statement of the Surveyor. The average net profits of the Village are 1500 per annum. The average rates of land as well as panchabunds are given on the back of this Register. It is recommended to value the Village as above in 1726.
