 I, if the village be maintained, it will be for the use of the people now ——— and the building here is ——— Travellers will suffer ——— 1797

In consequence of there being no process in the village, Anna Laramie was discontinued.
For the accommodation of the Travellers a thatched building is erected in the walls of the old building & a Cavalier employed. It is apparent from the circumstances stated above that the village yields no income to enable either the performance of Anna Laramie, or the keeping of Water Pondal. The Indian Commission Deputes Collector does not assign any reason for permitting the village which yields such an income as to cover the payments of a Cavalier employed in the building.
