Rambinjiyendal & Irattadiyendal

These are the Vendals or Hamlets in the Zemindary of Sevagunga granted for the support of the Temple of Sri Ranatha Swamy & Ammanthal in Tiruchuli. Of these, Rambinjiyendal is the Hamlet of the Ayen Village of Nerkuppy apathy & Irattadiyendal is the Hamlet of the Ayen Village of Puthury. In the Jelimar account these Hamlets are entered in lump with their area. In the Karatha account of Fasly 1223 alone, the area of these Villages is given distinctly. These Hamlets are situated at a distance of ½ mile from each other. In the account of F 1264, the boundaries of Rambinjiyendal alone are given. In the Lambourdy account of F 1266 the boundaries of Irattadiyendal is are given. The Zemindar's Vakeel adopted these boundaries & proved the area situated within the said boundaries. Hence the area of 73½ Acres is confirmed here as the extent of these two Vendals or Hamlets. The Summum proposed in lump first by the Registers of these Hamlets. At the time of the settlement of the Hamlets I found the area of these Hamlets to be as follows, distinctly –

	Pouroukka	Dry	Wet	Total
Rambinjiyendal	11 20	33-60	18-67	63-47
Irattadiyendal	1-68	5-60	2-75	10-03

The above Lands are situated within the proper limits of the Hamlets No I Karai about the area or about the boundaries on the part of the Zemindar Vakeel. The area given in the old accounts is Pouroukkally false. In the Jelimar account Poruppu is given in lump. For these two Hamlets as 3-2-10 Now the Zemindar collecting 96-75 for all the Villages belonging to the Temple, in lump. The sum exceeds that given in the Jelimar account 21-1-10 the Village wise details of the Poruppu 2967 5 are not known. The Poruppu was increased several years ago. The Villages belonging to the Temple are common dues & many encumbered by the Zemindar. The Temple is efficiently kept up. The Lands in it are Vellanes depend upon the Soil is of a inferior quality. Average profits of the Hamlets are 170 Pagodas per annum.

Vadamanendal & Puvandiyendal

Remarks & Boundaries & Assessment &c &c

Rent, — Vadamanendal is a Village & Puvandiyendal is its Hamlet of the Ayen Village of Pulkuy - These two are entered in Lump in Sthanikar account of Fasly 1211 though they are situated at a distance of about 1½ Miles from each other - In the account of F 1223, the area is given distinctly & separately for each Village In the account of F 1244, only the boundaries of Puvandiyendal are given & those of Vadamanendal are omitted Being from Sthalboard's Register of dtd 1815, the Villages are entered in lump - The Jamabundy proposed the account of the two Villages as Registered them jointly - The Zemindari Vakeel passed the boundaries of Puvandiyendal as per entries in the account of F 1244 & those of Vadamanendal as per entries in the Sanabundy Account of F 1261 - The Vakeel has no Pattakar by giving the boundaries nor about the area - Hence the area of 18 Acres & 76 Cents as is contained here as the area of the two Villages - In detail the area of each Village is as follows

	Poramboke	Dry	Wet	Total
1 Vadamanendal	.	2-24	2-50	4-74
1 Puvandiyendal	3-97	.	10-05	14-02

I now split the Villages into two distinct ones & recommend for separate Pattahs - As the Temples are separate & distinct from one another - Again from the accounts of F 1211 - 1223 & 1815 it appears that these Villages were granted originally for the support of Sri Kanada Swamy & Sri Nagaram Sri Surakudi - Only in the account of F 1244, Puvandiyendal is entered as Endowment made for the support of Nagaram Deallkanda Swami in the said Puvandiyendal - The Trustees of the Desikanada Swamy Temple who are Nattukottai Chettiers plead that Puvandiyendal was originally granted for the Temple of Desikanadha Swamy in Ponnaya Kings & that ever since it is held by the Temple - & that the Village is entered in the accounts by mistake in the name of Sri Kanadha Swamy - The word is repeated by "Nagarallars" or by the community of Nattukottai Chettiers

Sri Desikanadha Swamy is in possession of Nagaram Desikanadha Swamy since long & that the Village of Puvandiyendal Sri Desikanadha Swamy is in possession of Nagaram Sri Desikanadha Swamy since long - No Pattah or Chettiers produced before me & other Estates Puvandiyendal long - No Pattah or Chettiers produced before me & other Estates Copies of a Sanad addressed on the 30 April 1832 by the Revenue Commissioner & the Collector & Agent over of the Collectorate passed on 8th July 1832 - Therein mentioned papers were not taken Preliminary was under attachment the Temples & Desikanadha Swamy was made over to Pattah Chettiers with its Landendowments - But the names of the Villages held there by the several Temples are not inserted in the papers - On the whole as it appears that Puvandiyendal is in possession of the Temple of Desikanadha Swamy since long, I recommend to confirm the Village upon the Temple of the said Desikanadha Swamy & the Revenue of Rs 6 per is a misappropriation of the Revenue of Rs 6 per annum shall be charged, & this Village shall then be charged
