Register of Darmasanam Village of Rendalivayal in Superior Palay of Tiruvanga Zemindary in the District of Chedura.

Register No. 1189 Rendalivayal

Sheet No. 1350

I This is only the Darmasanam Village in the Zemindary of Tiruvanga. It is not known from any of the old accounts by whom & about when this was granted. This is entered as Darmasanam in the Account of Fasli 1211. It is not entered in any other public Accounts. What Title this village deduces from the Zemindar upon which the Permanent Settlement was based. No Talb are about the Area or about the boundaries on the part of the Rayis Vakeel the boundaries now inserted in the muncicular statement correspond to the recognized boundaries of the Village. Hereby are confirmed & Pattas & Cowles ordered thereon are registered here.

II This Village is in possession of the Zemindar since long. The Rayis Vakeel states that the Village was resumed in Fasli 1212 in satisfaction of the arrears of Peshcush then outstanding against it. In proof of this he produced before the Rdaptramiassen Account of Fasli 1212 of the Zemindari which is bound in book & wherein the Village is written among the other Villages. In the Samabandy Account of Fasli 1212 which is in a foojdar roll, this is entered as Darmasanam with other Darmasanam Villages that are in possession of the Zemindary. One Rdaswamyen claimed the Village by reason that it was granted by Virgiah Nayak Setupaty to Ayasthanayen, grand father of the great grand father long ago & that it is under the attachment of the Zemindar since the last 60 years, his claim is rejected. As it is proved on the other hand that the Village is in possession of the Zemindar since the last 60 years & since Fasli 1212 either legally or illegally, I would recommend to confirm the same in satisfaction of the arrears of Peshcush for Fasli 1212 & to grant Pattah for the present Rayi of Tiruvanga on 8 Jamabandy Account.

Valuation.
