There however exist certain accounts containing the names of the miscellaneous typpanar Manippam in the Sivaganga zemindary in which are entered the two cheis endowd on account of the typpanar Kotte in question. The accounts are dated Shunathu year 1801 (Feb. 12/11). The zemindary's final accounts of 1801 also show that the 2 cheis in question were granted for the typpanar Kotte. The Sivaganga taluk of Manamadurai has no objection to the Kotte subject to the condition that he can gift the taluk not confined. Two sets of persons (Column 18) related to each other as Kungalas (Cofarconers) claim to be in enjoyment of the Manippam and to be also the worshippers of the 3 typpanar deities mentioned in Column 18. Nos 1, 2 & 3 belonging to one side & Nos 4, 5 & 6 to the other. The former sued the latter for division in the District Munsif Court before a quinquennial. The District Munsif decreed accordingly but on appeal by the latter to the District Court, Madras, Mr. Staphors pronounced the District Munsif's Decree on the ground that the lands formed a religious endowment & are not divisible & referred the parties to the Collector. The final accounts of 1801 show the name of Naga Velan (No 2's father) as Kunga maker to the typpanar Kotte in question. The result of the enquiry made by the S. Comm. showed that all the typpanar persons mentioned in Column 18 are Kungalas (Cofarconers) & are in enjoyment of the Manippam. Therefore, it is recommended that the Manippam may be treated as a religious endowment and settled accordingly in the name of the typpanar persons mentioned in Column 18. It is proposed to lodge the title deed that may be issued on account of this income with the Collector as he is the usual grantee of the original Kunga maker Naga Velan mentioned in the Ischeman Sivaganga accounts of 1801. The two cheis are valued at Rs 30 to be confirmed under Rule VII.	The income being the endowment for religious institutions it does not concern the S. Comm. What the names of the persons who may actually be the worshippers (Deities) for the time being may be. A Table sheet under Rule VII will therefore issue in the usual form.
