The Sum was granted for Bundari Service to, for keeping the fuel at the - stage house in the Madras Sahib, It appears in the accounts shown in Column 12 Receipts for payment of Puriappa, and road cut, are produced to show enjoyment of the village all along as Sum. The person in column 16, who is doing the service and the former owner of Sineganga, as the Trustee of the temple, pray for the confirmation of the Sum in their respective names, but I recommend that the Sum be settled in the name of the former, who is actually rendering the service. The wet lands depend upon only one tank for their irrigation, which is rain fed and is in a ruined condition. In its present state it cannot hold water 10 days. Supplied with cost about 300 or 400 Rs to restore the tank. The soil is very poor and one crop is hardly obtained. 6.16 acres of the wet land, is fit only for dry cultivation. In consideration of the nature of the soil I frame the valuation as follows. 257 acres at 1 Rs an acre ----- 12-4-6 19.87 acres at 2 Rs an acre ----- 39-11-10 6.16 acres at 9 annas an acre ----- 3-1-3 55-1-7
To be confirmed under Rule III.						Confirmed to The present holder on the condition that service is maintained Sineganga Sineganga 2/4/57
