Valuation

11 Wet lands depend upon two Tanks of moderate size. They are in repair. —They are fed by Jungle Streams & by the waste Water of the neighbouring Ayen Villages. The Tanks are filled annually in ordinary seasons — Wet & Dry lands are cultivated annually in full — Some lands are left waste scarcely — The Mobazamans tell the Dry & Wet lands as those cultivated annually. Very few wet lands are cultivated N.B. annually 2d time — No Vanbin is raised — Soil is of a superior quality generally — Scarcity of Water is not felt generally — The contiguous Ayen Village is Mallel, an important Ayen Village — The average ~~Rs~~ of 14 years from Fusly 1256 to 1268 of the said Ayen Village comes to 9 Rupees per acre — The Mobazamans say that the Ayen Village consists of very superior lands & that the Dumcasanam lands are inferior to it. This seems to be true — The average income of the Village as per statement A is 98 Rupees per annum — This is not fair — The average assessment of the [illegible] Lands ~~vary~~ varies from 13 As to 9 Rs per acre — In consideration of the [illegible] soil &c, I propose the valuation of the Village as follows —

Wet 28 Acres cultivated annually at 7 Rs per acre 196 —

Dry 82 Acres at 10 As per acre 51 4 —
